STUDENT LIFE

FALL OFFICERS

Fall President Mike Hansen, assisted by Vice President Bob McLaughlin, Financial Secretary Brad Davids, Recording Secretary Lisa Kearney, and Head Yell Leader Cyndy Whitmore, continued to bring strong leadership to AHS through active student government.

One of Mike's chief

was to bring AHS and the community closer together.

As chairman of the Assembly Planning Committee, Bob's main concern was finding good entertainment for student body meetings during the first semester.

Brad's main job was balancing and holding the Ad-Board budget of $14,000, the highest ever at AHS.

Lisa's chief task as recording secretary was taking minutes at Ad-Board meetings.

Boosting school spirit sky high was Cyndy's goal and she got off to a good start by winning the spirit trophy at the ACAL opening jamboree in September.

LEADERSHIP

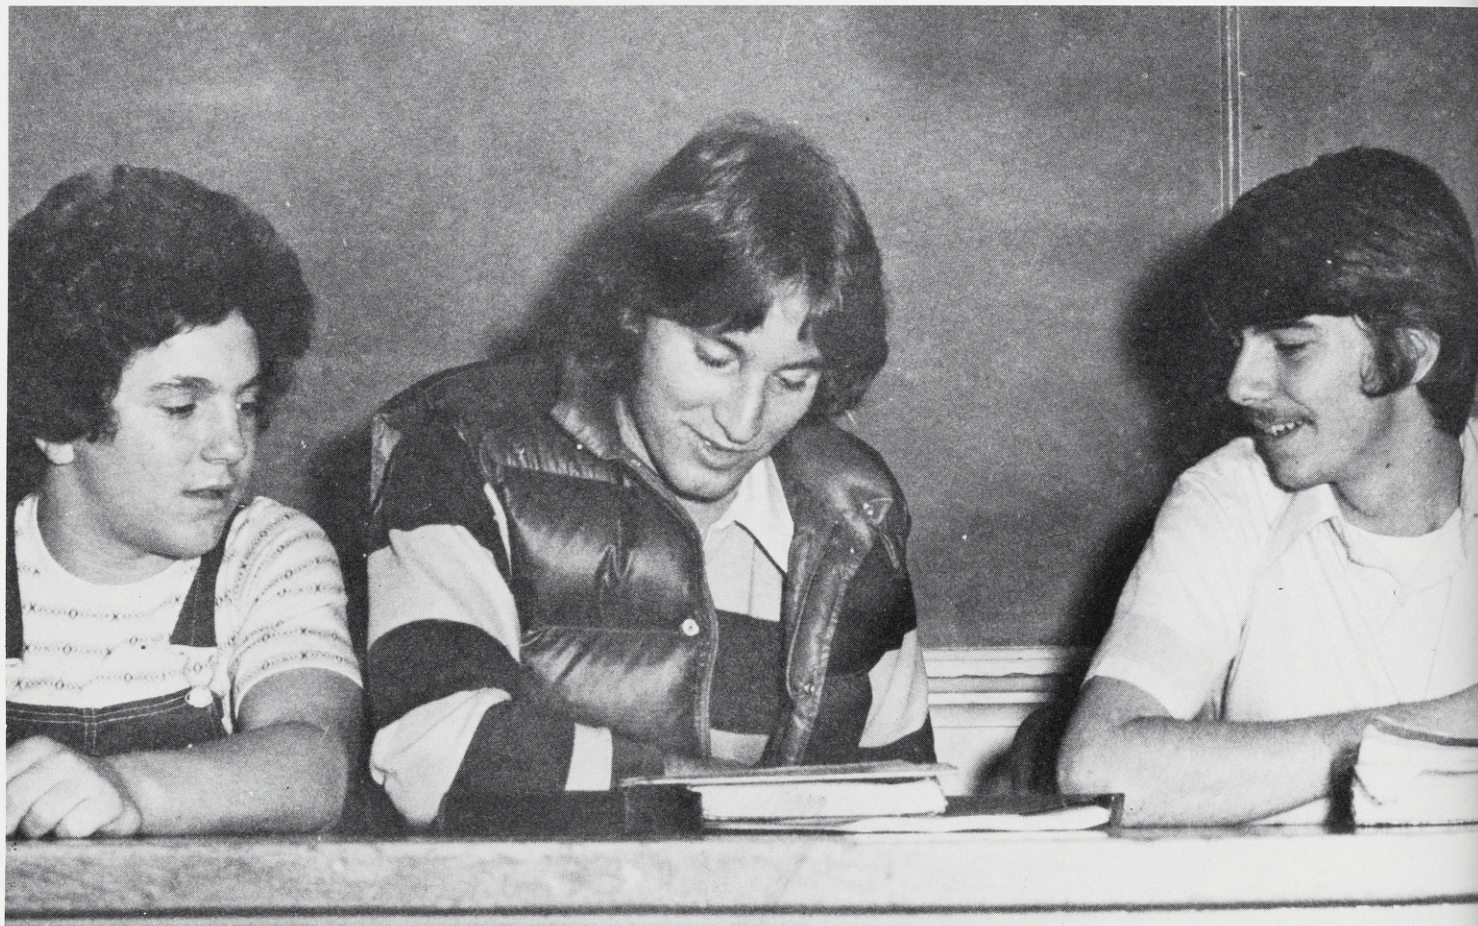

For about fifty of Alameda High's elected and appointed students involved in student government, first period in Room 211 was spent planning, organizing, and supervising all school-related activities. Led by advisor Don Perata, Leadership was divided into five committees: Social Activities, Policy, Finance, Campus Affairs, and Assembly Planning.

The elected students in Leadership made up the school's Administrative Board, which was headed in the fall semester by experienced Speaker Steve Ratto and Vice Speaker Erik Alterman. The formal Ad-Board meetings held every Wednesday helped to coordinate the activities of the various committees,

such as the awards dinners, the concession program, the assembly schedule, and student body card sales.

A junior, Mark Sigmon, took over as Ad-Board speaker for the spring semester, and was assisted by Vice Speaker Rob Doumitt. A major concern for the spring was planning for double sessions next year while organizing this year's activities. Throughout the year, the students involved in Leadership proved that student government can work and works well at AHS.

HOMECOMING

AHS added something new to the Homecoming tradition this year: a Homecoming King. The student body showed excellent taste in selecting Karen Nelson, a Junior, as Queen, and Senior Mark Regan as King.

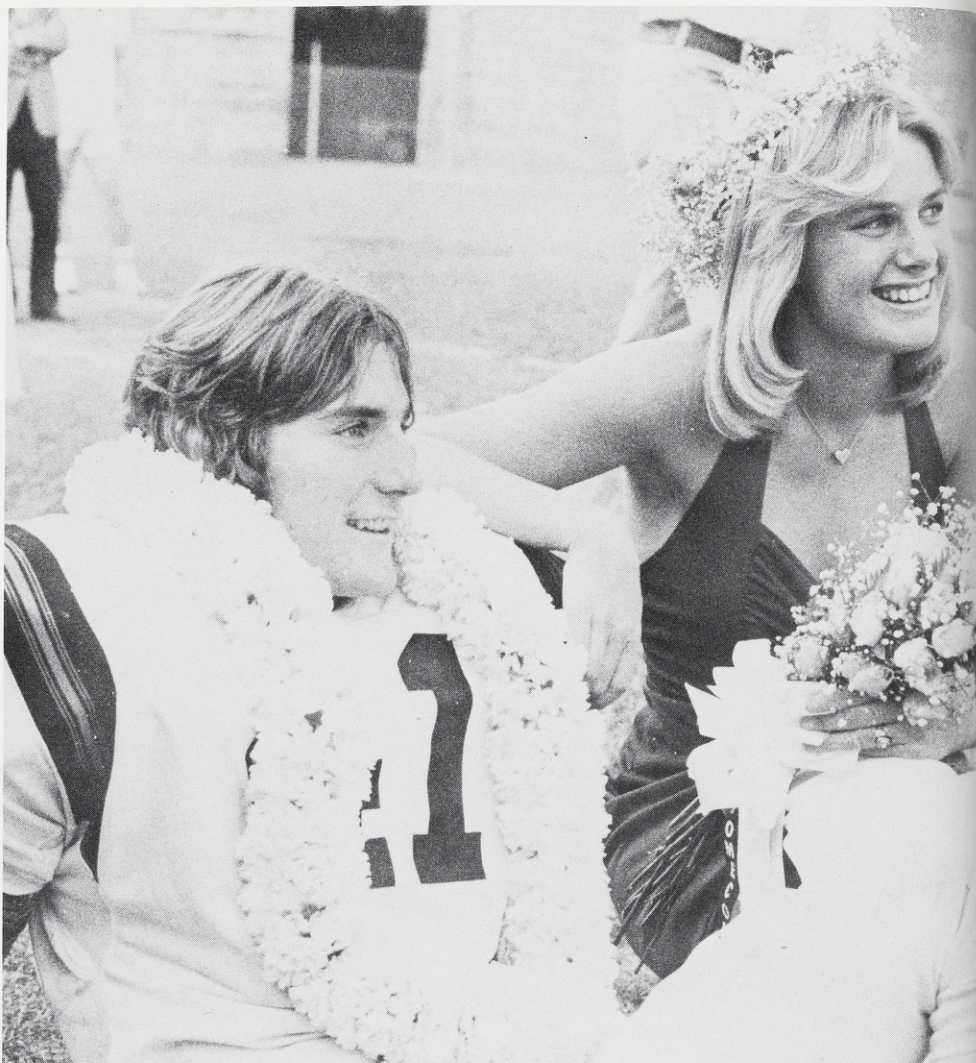

Mark, a starter for the Hornet football team in the Homecoming Game, received a knee injury while carrying the ball in the first half. He managed a smile, though, as he was crowned

on his stretcher during the halftime ceremonies on the field.

This year's court included Sue Millican and Dwayne Brown, first runners up; Didi Justin and David Jaber, second runners up; Lori Lomba and Trino Fernandez, third runners up; and Dana Nelson and Paul Goode, fourth runners up.

SPIRIT WEEK

Spirit Week had to have been the most exciting week of the year. Halls were decorated from ceiling to floor, and door to door. A bubble gum blowing contest, egg throwing contest, tug o'war and a potato run highlighted the noontime rallies.

The Junior Janitors, class of '78, made a clean sweep

of Spirit Week, for the second year in a row. Senior Stars came close, taking second, followed by Sophomore Swingers, third, and Filthy Freshmen, fourth. The two under-classes showed great potential for success in future years.

LUNCH

The bell rings and they're off! This race has no central starting gate but most of them cross the same finish line - right into the lunch line. Whether hamburgers or fish sticks are on the menu, there are always lines of people waiting for their fantastically appetizing (?) lunch. Not all people, however, participate in this jumble of food eating (and throwing). There are those who bring their little brown bags and sit meekly in the halls eating their bologna sandwiches and studying. There are also those who live close enough to school to go home and have Mama make them a nice hot lunch.

Last but not least are the roamers. What is a roamer??? Just go to Park St. any lunch hour and if you can find room on the sidewalk, take a walk and watch. From afar, the roamers seem to be busy shoppers, but a close-up glance reveals that they are just walking in and out of stores trying to kill time until it's time to go back to school.

Left: Why sit in plastic chairs when you can have marble stairs?

SPRING OFFICERS

The student body election of January, 1977, was quite unusual, with only eight students running for the five student body offices. Incumbents Mike Hansen, Brad Davids, and Cyndy Whitmore held on to their seats, while two juniors,

Tana Frazer and Erik Alterman, were victorious in their campaigns for Vice President and Recording Secretary, respectively.

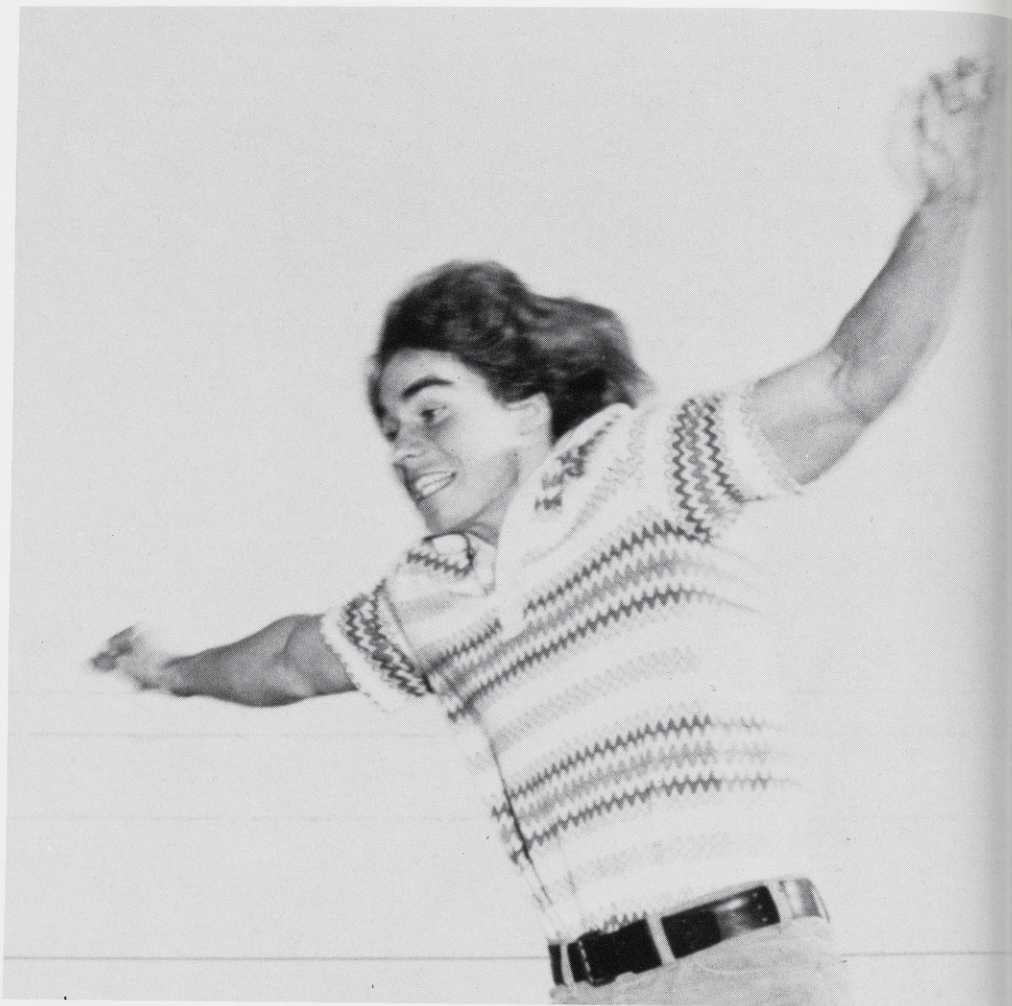

The office of Head Yell Leader was changed to Commissioner of Spirit to give more people a chance to run and participate in student government.

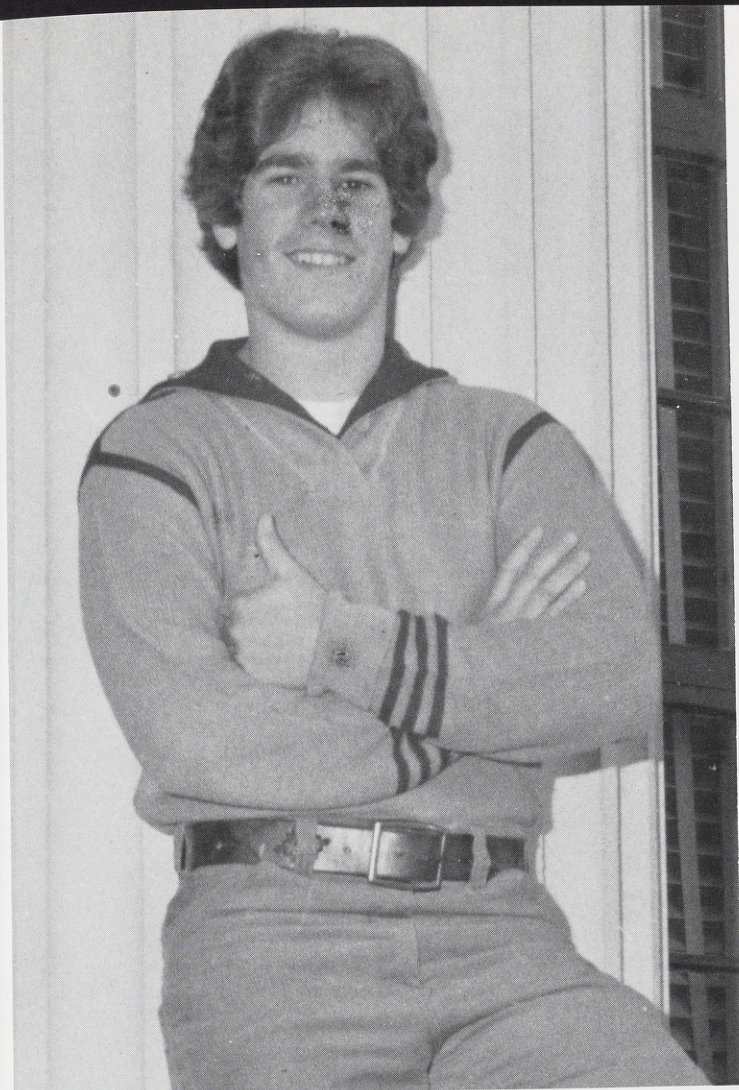

The main goal of the spring officers was to develop plans for next year—plans that will greatly affect the students they represent.

SOPH-HOP

One of this year's highlights was the Soph Hop put on by the class of '79. Following tradition, it was a 'girl ask guy' dance.

The Sophomores went all out this year and booked "East Bay Timberline", the number one band in the Bay area.

Following the theme of "Mistletoe Twist", the gym was decorated with kisses

and mistletoe. Marriage, Divorce, and picture-taking booths were also featured.

The tremendous success of this dance was due to the hard working sophomores who put out time and effort needed to sponsor a successful dance.

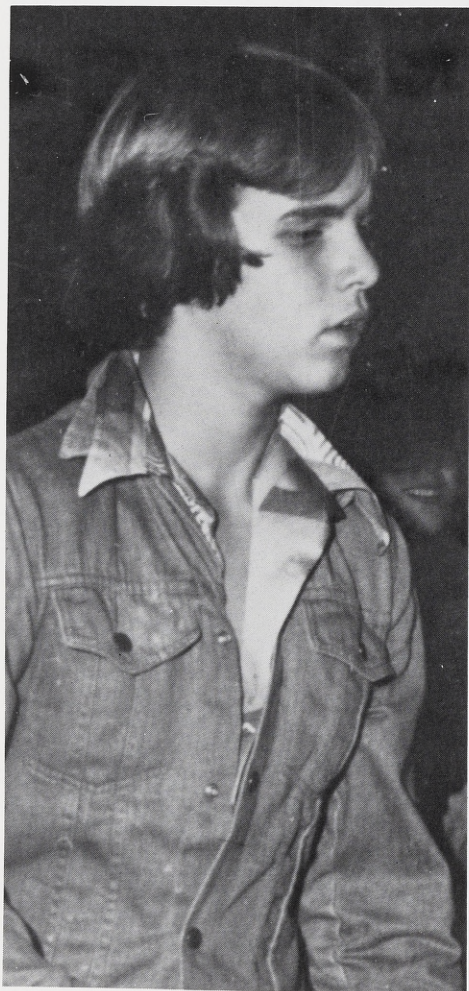

Decorations were handled by Camille Cordo; Booths by Kim Clary; Pictures by Catherine Mariani; Publicity and bids by Cindy Weber. Under the direction of class president Tammy Foster, and Kim Clary, as co-chairman, the sophomores put on a dance to be remembered.

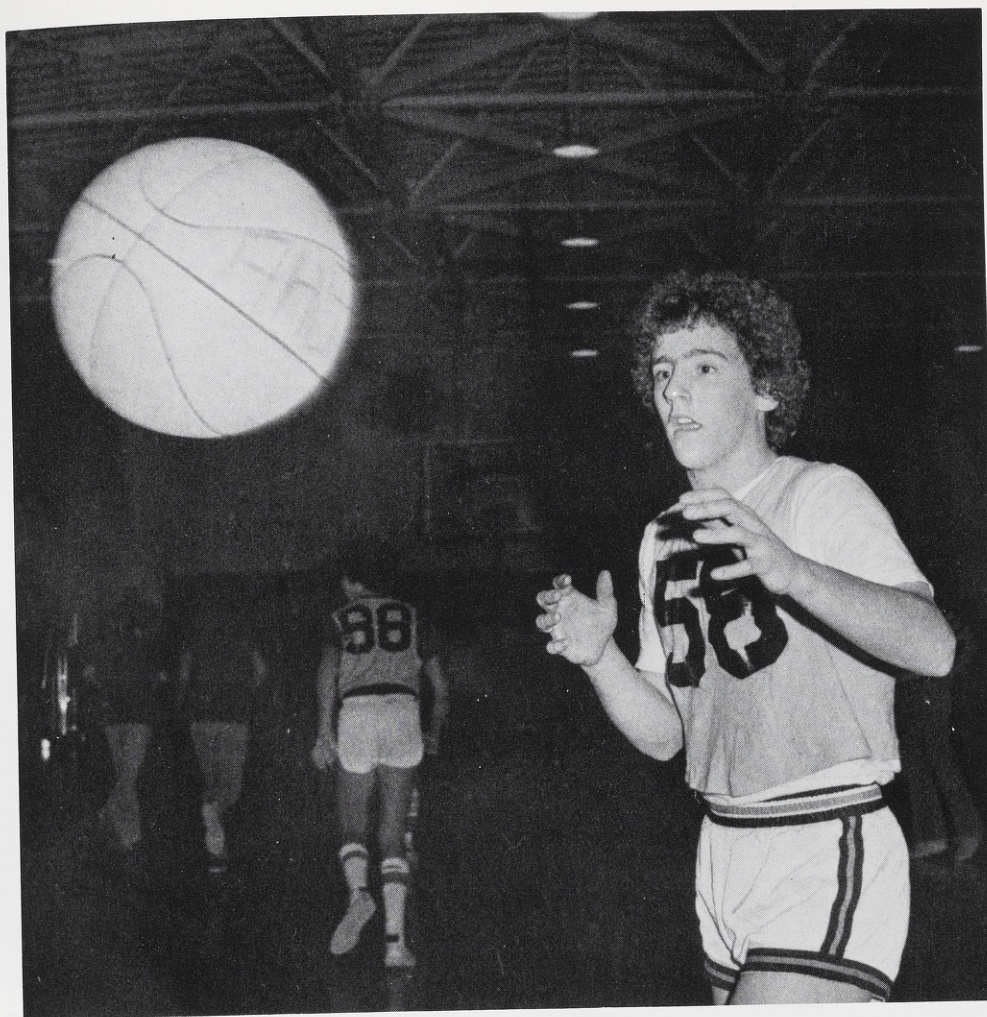

Right: Praying for a dance.

INTRAMURALS

The Intramural sports program was restricted this year due to lack of facilities because of the new school construction. Though sports like flag football were not possible, many other intramural sports were enjoyed by everyone

in the gym at lunchtime. These included basketball, ping-pong, volleyball, and badminton.

The purpose of the Intramural program was to involve as many students in sports activities as possible. Mr. Kern did a fine job in coordinating and supervising these sports.

ORCHESTRA

Music is the fine art of expression through sound. The students in the AHS concert band and stage band found that performing for Student Body meetings were very rewarding experiences.

The orchestra provided the music for the graduation in June. All three musical groups combined in two seasonal concerts in the spring and winter.

MARCHING BAND

If you attended any of the A.H.S. home football games at Thompson Field, you would have heard the A.H.S. Marching Band playing music

for your enjoyment. The band did much to raise school spirit during these games. If you happened to look out on the field during half-time, you would have seen the band performing an original half-time show. The band also boosted Alameda spirit at the victorious Encinal game.

Above: Day on the Green at Thompson Field.
Right: Brad Barker directs the Marching Band.

STAGE BAND

The AHS Stage Band first appeared to the supporting student body in the first Student Body Meeting after Christmas vacation. It wasn't their first performance

however, as they put on a program for the senior citizens in October.

They continued to perform at all the Student Body Meetings for the rest of the year and added two special concerts to their list of appearances.

Lower Left: More saxes.
Below: Mr. Vince leads the Stage Band.

HORNIE BAND

The Fabulous Hornie Band, in its second year of exuberant existence, continued to bring spirit and excitement to traditionally dull events. Led by Brad Davids and Brad Barker, the Hornies performed at the Encinal football game rally, the Encinal swim meet, the Election Week Parade, and all Hornet basketball games.

Living up to its name, the all male band gladly cooperated with the yell-leaders and pom-pom girls in various routines and stunts. Although striving for

rather than musical excellence, the Hornies showed unbelievable talent in songs like, "The Stripper", "Music to Watch Girls By", and Gerard Kluitenberg's fantastic favorite "Wipeout".

Although they could not show up every time they were requested, the band made up for it by appearing unexpectedly in unexpected places, often for very short appearances. Undaunted by numerous requests for "Far, Far Away", the Hornies gave AHS what it needed-relief from the standard traditions through good, weird fun.

SCC

This year, the Student Curriculum Council worked on the problems concerning double sessions at Encinal High next year and on the reinstatement of advisories. They worked with Encinal's SCC to try and come up with solutions

to many of the problems related to the high school curriculum.

Through Chairperson Patty Keller and Vice Chair Mary Jacak, the SCC provided student input from Alameda into the District Curriculum Council.

Other SCC members included: Sonia Burns, Celia Wesenberg, Sue Millican, Karen Veenbas, Steve Freitas, Mark Sigmon, Adrienne Yee, Nancy Ung, Glen Lim, Julie Barrantes, Anthony Battu, Carrie Doumitt, Didi Justin, Kim Pearson, Rusty Rasmussen, and Mike Root.

Right: Mary Jacak discusses plans with Patty Keller.

DRIVER EDUCATION AND TRAINING

"The best way to learn something is by doing it yourself." This is the philosophy behind the driver training program at AHS. Through a lot of patience and many encouraging words, students were coached through the road test.

Driver Education is the first step for Alameda High students toward their California Driver's License.

Students must complete thirty hours of Driver Education, a classroom course, before going on to Driver Training. In the classroom, students learn the basic steps of driving a car so that they will be prepared for the actual driving on the road in Driver Training.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Work Experience is an education. It is one not found in the typical classroom. It is discovered in the realistic setting of a bona fide job

working with the actual tools of the trade.

It is the potential answer to the future question "What experience do you have?" The Work Experience program at AHS provides experience. It is designed for a person to learn the disciplines of a job, the need to work in harmony with others, and the need to be responsible and dependable.

YEARBOOK STAFF

The staff of the 1977 Acorn, led by Editor Brad Davids and Advisor Rick Gamble, worked hard to put together a yearbook that could be called "the best ever". Although the majority of the staff were they soon learned how to write copy, sell ads, crop pictures, and put it all into a successful book. Copy Editor Kim Kennedy, Head Photographer Mike Grice, and Business Manager Brad Barker did fine jobs in their departments.

"rookies",

After deciding on a theme for the book, Brad and the rest of the staff attended a yearbook conference at Cal State Hayward, which showed many new yearbook techniques. These ideas, together with more color pictures than ever before, made the 1977 Acorn a memorable one.

NEWSPAPER STAFF

The 1976-77 Oak Leaf was very successful due to frequent eight page papers and special issues such as the Fig Leaf and the recent Senior Edition.

John Frizzell served as Editor for the fall semester. Working hard with John was Rob Westerhoff as

News

Editor, Sonia Burns as Editorial Editor, Pinky Mulay as Feature Editor, and Jeff Silverman as Sports Editor.

At the semester break, the Oak Leaf changed hands and Jeff Silverman took over as Editor. Working with Jeff in the spring semester were Pinky Mulay as News Editor, Jim Schlagel as Editorial Editor, Steve Ratto as Feature Editor, and Bob McLaughlin as Sports Editor.

Many exciting features made this year's Oak Leaf the most widely read of all times. Features that proved to be successful included Question Man, Dear Slick, Tune Talk, Soul Sounds, Amazing, Car of the Month, and Clublicity. An Oak Leaf-sponsored "Water Conservation Contest" was also very successful.

CREATIVITY...

ALONE ON THE BEACH

By Celia Wesenberg

I walk along the beach.
 Alone in the morning.
 A seagull cries above my head.
 I glance across the water.
 The sky and the water reflect one another,
 the horizon lost in grey.
 Today will be cold and overcast.
 The water laps against my navy blue deck shoes.
 I look down at my faded jeans
 and weather-beaten jacket.
 I begin to dream of royal blue velvet gowns
 and capes made for kings and queens;
 Of being a princess and living in a huge palace,
 Having a room to myself,
 a bright blue room with white lace curtains.

Tripping over a piece of driftwood,
 I return to morning.

"Children are like wet cement, whatever falls on them makes impressions."

NIGHT FEELINGS

Ny Patti Fischer

My head is filled with dreams as I sit in the old kitchen chair, held up by glue and padded with a newspaper mat.
The cold air seeps in through the old window frames and the glass shakes and rattles with every breeze.
The light overhead hums a song of better days in its nasal voice and its black edges are tattle-tales of its age.
The faucet drips out its woes to the cast iron fry pan below and the pan listens intently, not missing a beat.
The house creaks and groans with its age, its sounds coming together to form a rich song.
The night is all around me but I am not afraid, for I am at peace with the world.

THE SOUND

By Celia Wesenberg

Everytime I tried, something went wrong.
Usually I had a loose tooth, or one that was missing.
Once I had a really juicy piece of gum that I couldn't force myself to get rid of.
Well, finally it happened.
The conditions were perfect.
My lips drew together tightly.
My tongue curled perfectly.
I drew a deep breath,
Then released and exhaled.
The wind rushed through my mouth.
And what emerged was the most beautiful sound I've ever heard,
A long, high-pitched sound that echoed through my brain.
I had done it.
I had finally whistled.
I rushed into the house.
I whistled again.
The same note came out long and strong.
I ran into the bedroom.
I whistled again and pointed to my mouth.
My mother, busy at the crib, said, without turning,
"That's nice, dear, but please be quiet.
You don't want to wake your little brother now, do you?"

ALL SCHOOL PLAY

A satire of amateur actors, "The Torchbearers", was presented by the drama department as this year's All School Play. In the intriguing plot, each actor thinks he or she is destined for stardom. In "reality", everyone is inept, undisciplined, and ridiculous. The play, written by George Kelly, is a story of big egos and how they can be deflated.

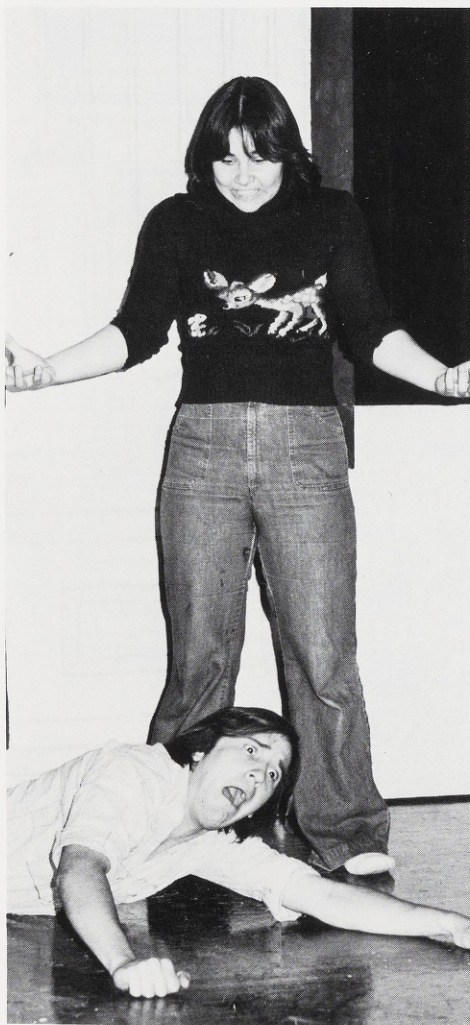

The play was presented in the Alameda High School auditorium, on March 25 and 26, and may be the last play to be performed there. Directed by Lon Eakes, the relatively small cast

included Gary Sabo, Gigi Codman, Carol Wayburn, Glenyse Henschel, Steve Freitas, Angela Lerone, Alan Woodward, Chris Kapellas, Tom Royer, Tana Frazer, Greg Matthews, and Pat Barnes. Promotion, publicity, and organization was handled by the Ad-Board, with a lot of help from Lori Buhnerkempe and other artists.

JUNIOR PROM

The Edgewater Hyatt House's Oakland room in the beautiful city of Oakland was the scene for this year's Junior Prom, put on by the always-spirited Class of 1978. The band committee, led by Shannon Conner and Tana Frazer, chose "Savory" to provide music for the formal dance, and the band was well received.

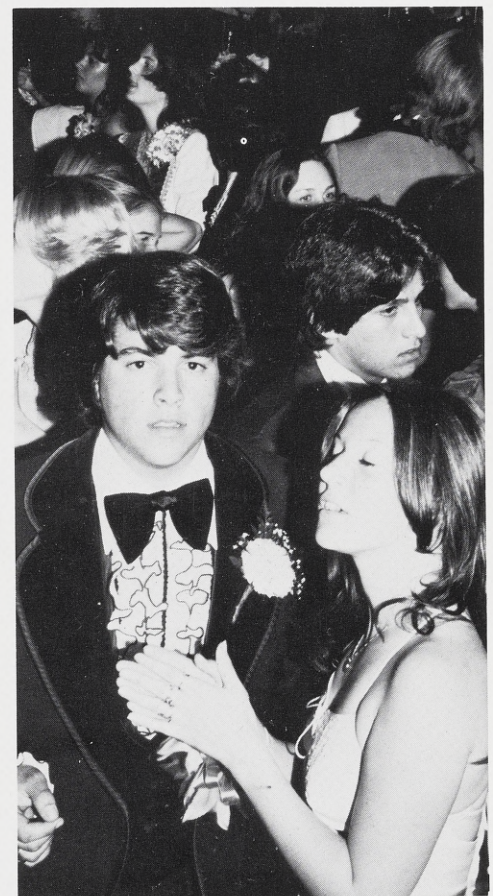

The prom theme was "Dancing in the Moonlight", and bids, publicity, and room decorations were capably handled by Sonia Burns, Sandy Knudsen, and Celia Wesenberg. A large turnout of over 250 people made closeness

the rule in the small room, and during the night there were reports of several bruised toes.

Highlighting the evening was the selection of the 1977 Junior Prom Queen, and Didi Justin received the crown. First through fourth runners-up were Karen Nelson, Tana Frazer, Shannon Conner, and Connie Gobble. Pam Gilmore was in charge of flowers and awards for the queen and her court.

The night was truly one to remember for all who attended, and the comment most heard afterward was "It went too fast!"

INTERACT

Interact Club, led this year by President Steve Ratto and Vice President Dan Kahuanui, kept to its "high" standards of leadership by helping bring spirit and unity to Alameda High.

Interact sponsored a dance in November which naturally was a staggering

success. Most of the club's earnings went to "charities" such as the Thompson Field concession stand, Interplast, and club "functions".

Other officers this year were: Brad Calesini, Treasurer; Dave Jaber, Secretary; Rich Bennett, Herb Crawford, and Mark Candelario, Sergeant-at-Arms; and Bob Hansen and Bob McLaughlin, Chaplains.

Above: Dwayne Brown has a fun time before the dance.

PEP CLUB

After a year of absence, the A.H.S. Pep Club returned this year with help from Cindy Whitmore and Julie Roth.

Pep Club had a very active money-making year. Some of the activities were button sales, the selling of spirit

shirts, and a dance in April. All turned out to be a success.

Leading the Pep Club was President Julie Roth, Vice President Tana Frazer, Secretary Shannon Conner, and Treasurer Joe Ann Sonido. Helping the girls was the club's advisor, Mrs. Facchin, otherwise known as "Mom".

'S' CLUB

Alameda High's "S" Club had a very successful year. The "S" Club is a girls service organization, sponsored by the Soroptimists, and serve they did. Their calendar included the March of Dimes Walk-a-Thon and Haunted House, fund raising for Xanthos House, working for the Red Cross swine flu program, holiday parties for the handicapped, a Valentine's dance for Snedigar Cottage in San Leandro, and many more activities.

Officers included President Sonia Burns, Vice President Celeste Holmes, Treasurer Debbie Matsuura, Recording Secretary Christine Weidler, Correspondence Secretary Patti LeClair, Senior Director Jean Hatch, Junior Director Patricia Fleming, Sophomore Director Mary Folk, and Freshman Director Wayne Purvis.

Lower Left: Halloween at "S" Club's Haunted House.

SKI CLUB

"Think Snow" became the unofficial motto of the Ski Club, as the season's minimal supply of the essential white stuff slowly melted away. Though snow levels were low, the spirit of the club never died, and membership remained at a peak.

Despite the lack of snow, one over-night trip was made possible due to a welcomed storm in January.

Officers of the 1976-77 Ski Club were: President Brad Barker, Vice President Celia Wesenberg, Treasurers Sandi Janusch and Karen Nelson, and Secretaries Mark Breazeal and Charlie Thomas.

KEY CLUB

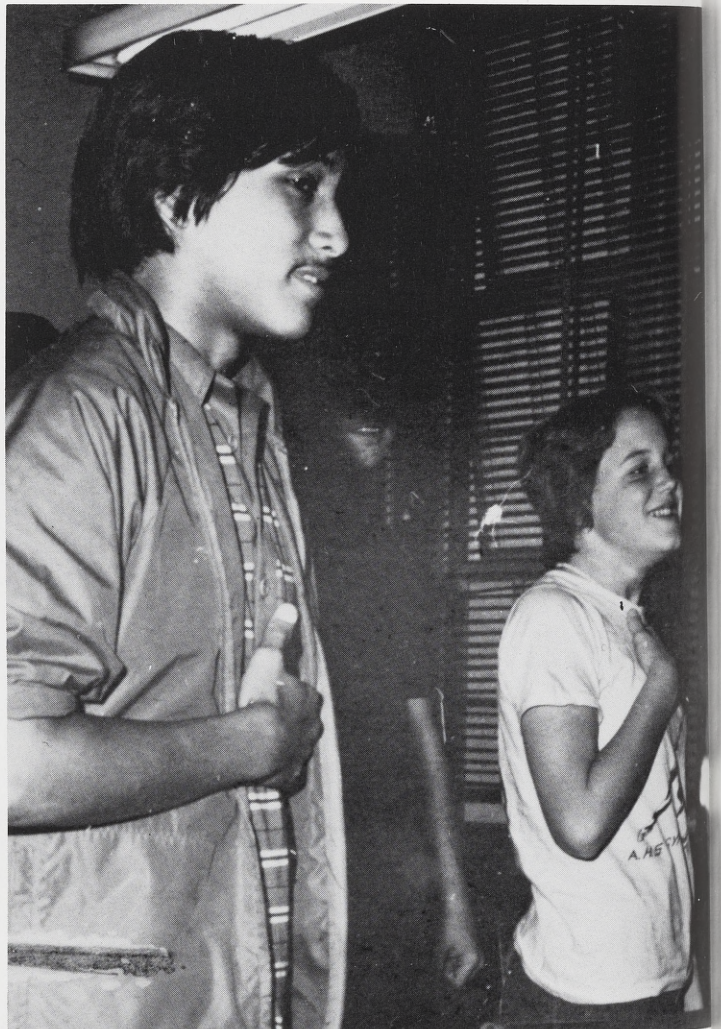

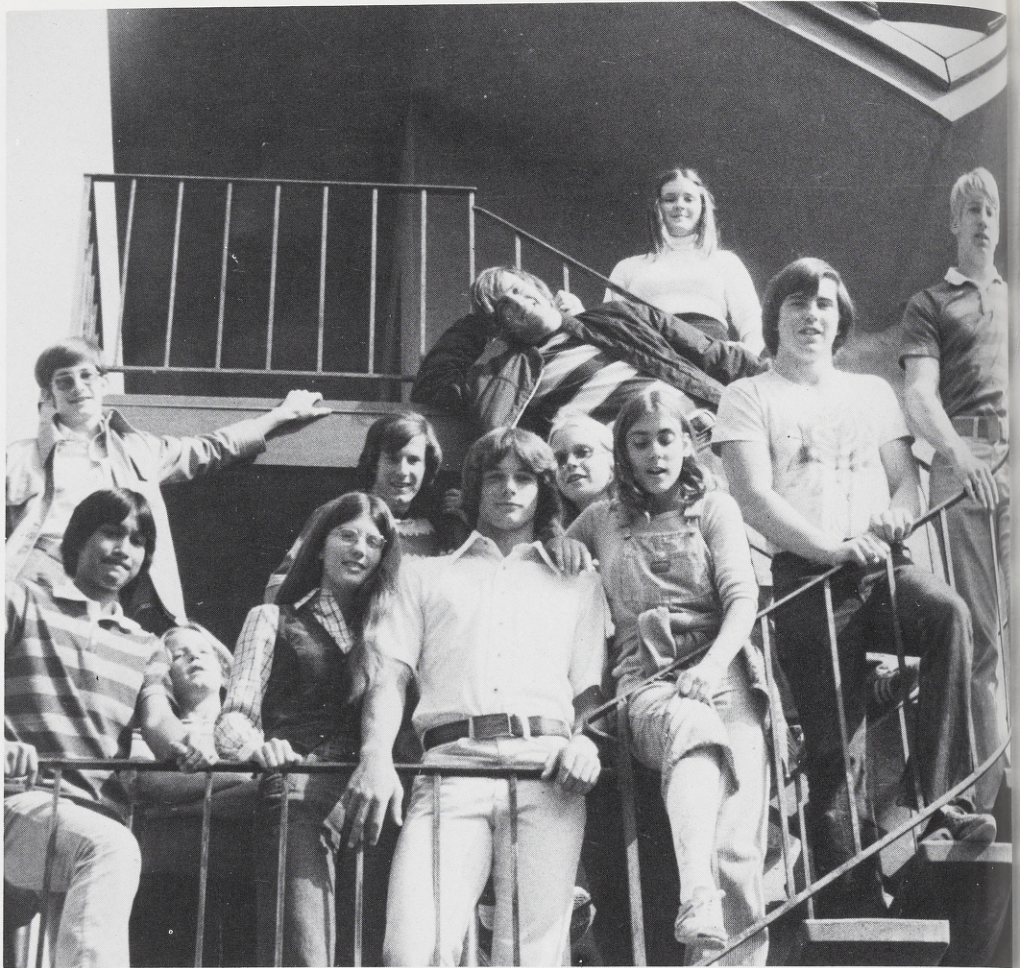

This year, Key Club had an exciting and meaningful time with a little help from advisor J. Cooper. President Charles Thomas, Vice Presidents Mark Brazeal and Ken White, Secretary Kelly Hamilton and Treasurer Mike Roberts led the club in their activities.

Being a service

club, they held many fund raising events for different charities including a Halloween party for the physically handicapped children at Whitton School, a fund raising basketball game with Interact, and helping the Northern California Diabetes Association in their bike-a-thon.

After a long hard year, the club took a pleasure trip to Santa Cruz.

Top: The Key Club climbs the stairway to success.

FRENCH CLUB

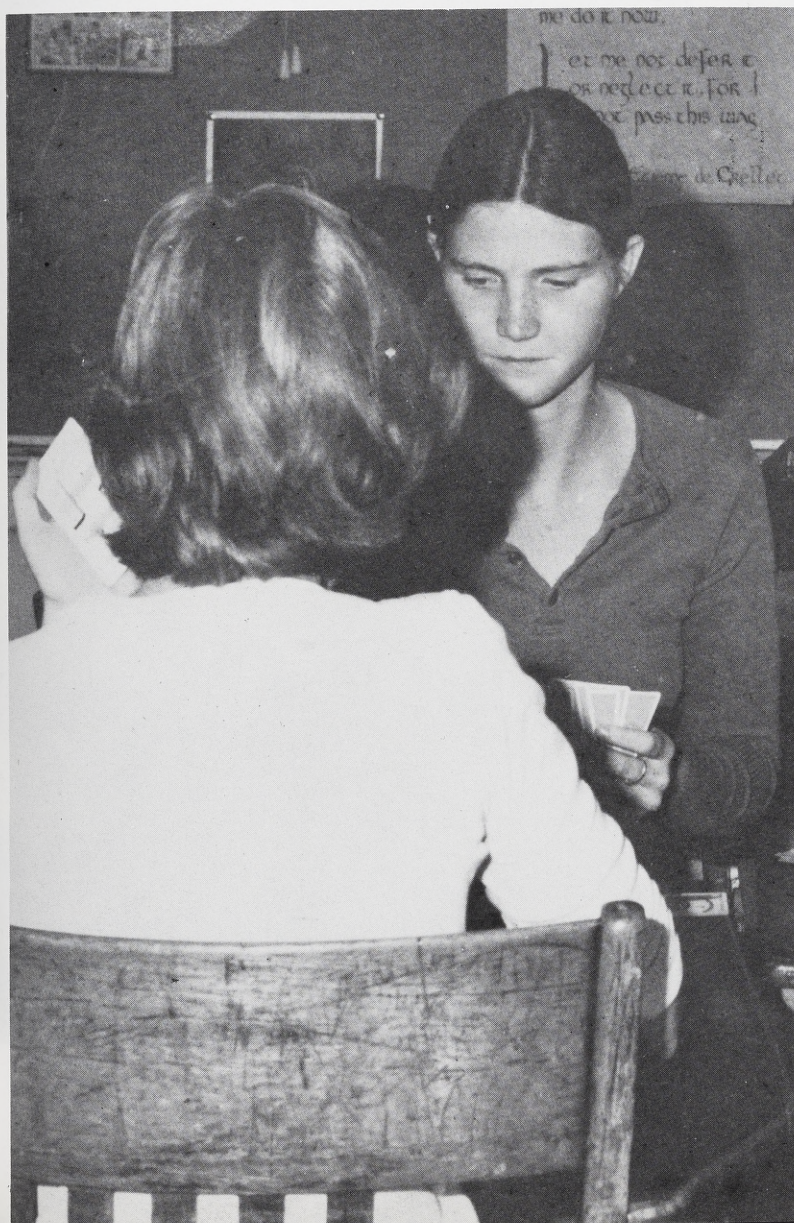

This year, French Club was very active. To indulge in some French culture, the members went to San Francisco and ate at different French restaurants. To improve their understanding of French tradition, they went to see French films in Berkeley.

French Club members also held their highly competitive "Mille-Bornes" tournament,

car washes, candy sales, and designed their very own "Le Cercle Francais" T-shirts. In a joint effort with Asian Club, French Club sponsored an International Dinner.

This year's club advisor was Cassandra Robinson. The officers included: President Patty Keller, Vice President Tom Glynn, Treasurer Bret Borgeson, and Secretary Pam Williams.

Top: The Club raids a French restaurant.
Left: Suzie Selhorst plays with French cards.

CSF

The CSF was very active this year. Their activities included a candy sale in January and a visit to San Francisco State University. CSF, which stands for California

Scholarship

Federation, also held their annual walk-a-thon to raise money for senior scholarships.

Officers leading the club this past year were: President Enita Mullen, Vice President Linda Luther, Treasurer Judy Lee, and Secretary Mark Sigmon.

VIDEO CLUB

This year's Video Club was led by President Brad Mencarelli and Treasurer John Faruchi. Members of the club learned how to operate cameras, recorders, and a special effects generator. With these, they had the opportunity to do take-offs on commercial TV programs.

This club prepared its members for possible jobs in the areas of mass media, advertising, and security. Through the club activities, members became aware of new developments in these fields.

STAR TREK CLUB

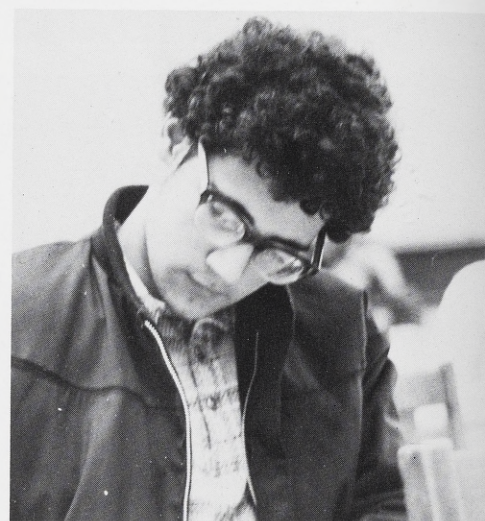

The basic purpose of the Star Trek Club is to try to promote a true understanding of Star Trek within the school, but the members this year were actually more concerned about the expansion

of everyone's longing and wish for a complete world of peace and harmony.

The officers in the club's second year were: President Scott Keeler, Vice President Robert Krikourian, Treasurer David McCormick, Recording Secretary Cheryl Yelton, and Sergeant-at-Arms David McGuire.

KEYWANETTES

This year, the Keywanettes, led by President Terry Thompson, performed many services to the community, including a Halloween Party for the handicapped children at Whitton School and a booth in the March of Dimes' House of Horror, for which they won second place. Other activities

included a two day city-wide canned food drive with the Key Club for the Red Cross, Christmas caroling at Alameda Hospital and rest homes, car washes, a kidnap of the President of their sponsoring Kiwanis Club to raise money for Special Olympics, a beach clean-up, and many other service projects.

The club also had a good time at such things as club dinners, cupcake parties, and other social events.

Other officers of Keywanettes included Vice Presidents Joyce O'Brien and Linda Perry, Secretaries Sherylanne Hanecak and Patti Fischer, and Treasurer Julie Barrantes.

USHERETTES AND COURTESY BOARD

The usherettes of Alameda High School did a fine job this year. Led by Julie Lopes, they ushered at the All School Play, the Senior Play, and Graduation.

Courtesy Board is a group of students who act as official hosts and hostesses for the school. They

at many school events including Open House, Back To School Night, PTSA meetings, and Graduation. This year the club was headed by President Dorothy Lopes, Vice President Jean Hatch, Secretary Kathy Purvis, Treasurer Linda Purvis, and Sergeant-at-Arms Peggy Khoury.

ASIAN CLUB

This year the Asian club was headed by fall officers Laisha Wong, President; Pinky Mulay, Vice President; Grace Reyes, Secretary; and Eleanor Huie, Treasurer. The spring officers also worked very hard to keep the club active.

The Asian club is open to any student interested in learning

about Asian culture, history, and contemporary issues.

Some of the club activities held this year included a gym night, a volleyball tournament, and an International Dinner. They also had very successful money-makers, like a newspaper drive, car wash and candy sale.

The faculty sponsors were Mr. Richard Dare, Miss Joyce Gee, and Miss Arlene Hoshi.

ROTC

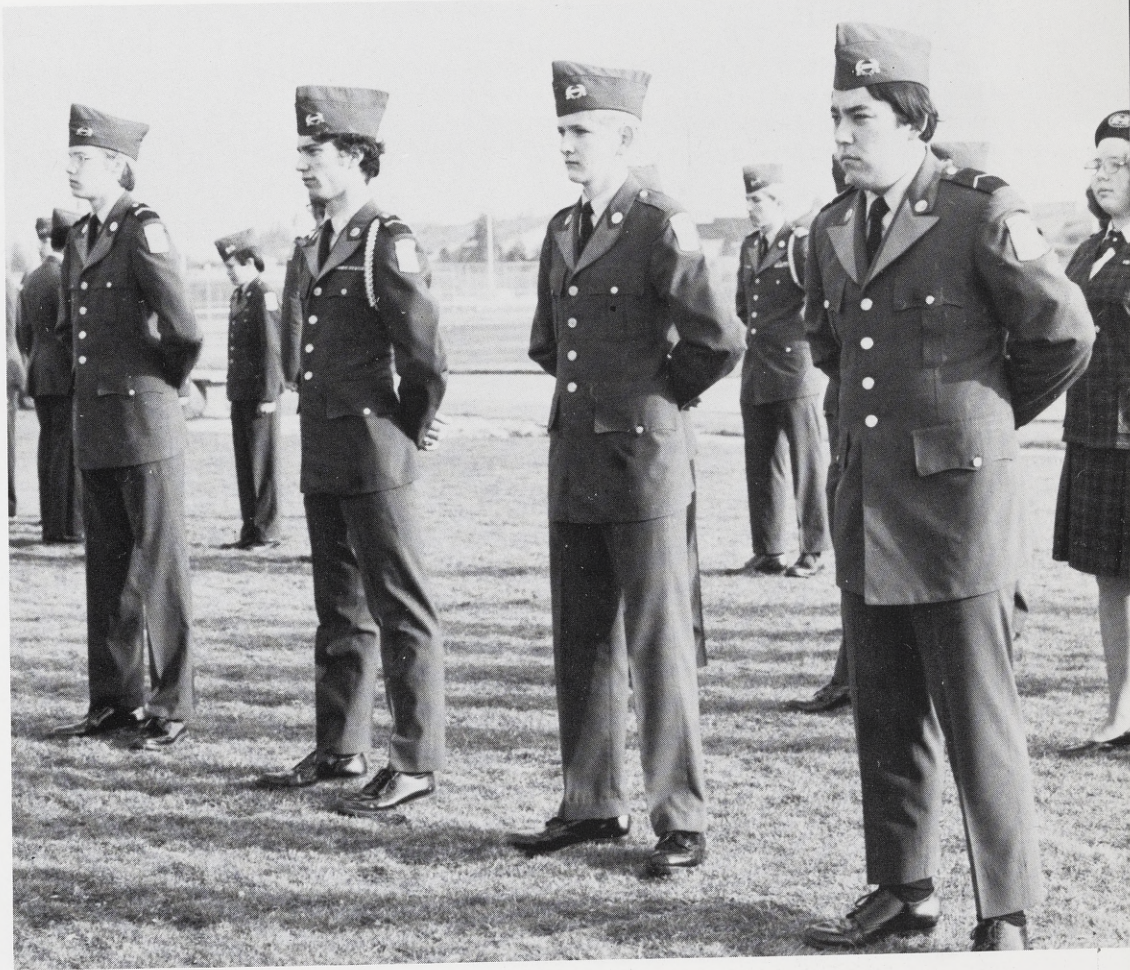

The colors are proudly raised by the Alameda High School ROTC Cadets in the early morning hours each day. The ROTC curriculum gives the cadets experience and provides them with a means of self-development. It stresses the importance of physical education and development, as well as good citizenship and self-discipline.

A variety of activities are offered through the ROTC, which is open to both boys and girls. Among these are Drill Team, Rifle Team, Field Training, and Flag Detail. Trips to various military installations, orientations, flights in various aircraft, and many cadet social events are a part of the program.

MODEL UN

Even though the Model United Nations club was small this past year, they were still quite active. Club members met at lunch times with club advisor, Mr. Terrell. The big event of the year was a mock

United Nations meeting staged in Berkeley by the club. President Mark Sigmon and Vice President Robert Wiese enjoyed leadership of the club.

COIN CLUB

The "Generalissimo" of Alameda High's Only Coin Club is Mike Grice. The club is committed to encouraging the saving of money in all forms, and then spending it wisely.

To coin a phrase, this club is "in the money."

The Coin Club had a candy sale in which they sold mints. (As in San Francisco, Denver, Philadelphia.) Advisor of the club is J. Cooper.

Thrilling activities included: Pitching pennies, Coining dumb phrases, Eating lunch, and Counting money.

BROWN BAG CONSPIRACY

In its first year at Alameda High, Brown Bag Conspiracy proved to be quite successful. The club was a one-of-a-kind at AHS, having both students and teachers as members. Once a week, the club met in room 210 to take part in the eating of natural foods.

Highlights of the year were: having their picture and story in the Times Star, having an Inaugural Peanut Luncheon honoring Jimmy Carter, and being interviewed by the Oakland Tribune.

Corner stones of the club included Fran Claggett, Madge Holland, Judy Thompson, Johanna Winzenread, and Lorraine Hand. Officers were: Head Conspirator Rusty Winzenread and Money Takers Sheree Cord and Patti Fischer.

DANCE CLUB

This year's Dance Club put on a Dance Concert on May 27th with the help of Don Perata, to which is owed a great deal of thanks. Without his help, the concert

wouldn't have been possible.

The officers were: President JoAnna Robles, Vice President Kasey Cook, Secretary Sandy Dixon, and Treasurer Kathy Wright. Advertisements were handled by Margie Hammons.

The show was a success, thanks to the teamwork of the many volunteer members.

SPORTS

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The Hornet varsity football squad played in a new league this past year. They placed third in the ACAL with five wins and four losses.

Leading the League in offense were Rich Bennett and Dwayne Brown who both were honored on the All-ACAL team. Hornet defense held El Cerrito, Oakland Tech, and ENCINAL scoreless. Defense also played an important part in the victories

over

San Leandro and Pacific.

Offensive starters included Rich Bennett, Dwayne Brown, Bob McLaughlin, Art Fuentes, Pete Michaleto, Mike Roberts, Dan Kahuanui, Jim Ironside, Bob Kleinhans, David Jaber, and Byron Clendenon.

Starting on defense were Dwayne Brown, Bob Hansen, Bob McLaughlin, Art Fuentes, Peter Hayes, Tom Meda, Rich Bennett, Mike Roberts, Tom Miller, Jonas Simon, Mark Candlerio, and Chris Dougherty.

JV FOOTBALL

Alameda's Junior Varsity Football Team got off to a slow start this season with three losses. However, they came right back with four straight victories. They lost the JV championship to Encinal in a very close game by the score of 6-7. Total dedication of all the team members was the key to the resulting success of the team.

JV offense included: Mark Phan, Tom Oliver, Lloyd Gerald, Rodney Pimental, John Yarbrough, Mark Perri, Kevin Hennessee, Cliff Farina, Herb Crawford, Mark Horton, and Rusty Quintana. Quarterback Cliff Farina was chosen the most valuable player.

Third Row: Herb Crawford, Jim Ogden, Mark Pharr, Mark Horten, Mike LaHue, Lloyd Gerald, Wayman Ching, Erik Alterman, Paul Goode.

SOPH-FROSH FOOTBALL

This year the individual players progressed and united to form a strong Soph-Frosh football team, with a season record of two wins, two ties, and three losses.

highlights of the season included Keith Yaden's winning run in the game against Albany, and the equally victorious Alameda-Encinal game.

Fullback Don Maroney was given the title Most Valuable Player for doing an excellent job.

Coaches Mike Tarkowski and Gary Bush both agreed that many of their teammates would be a definite asset to the varsity and junior varsity programs in the coming seasons.

BOYS' VARSITY CROSS-COUNTRY

This year's Varsity Cross-Country Team, despite being quite young, showed great strength, finishing the season with a 9-1 dual meet record and winning the OAL Invitational for the third year in a row. Then, to put the icing on the cake, they also ran away with the ACAL league championship, also for the third year in a row.

Senior Ray Kindle, captain of the Varsity Team, had an outstanding year. He was named the Individual League Champion, made the All-League Team, and broke the three-mile course record set in 1972. Joe Fields, J Peters, and Frank Leeds also made All-ACAL, with Ben Fenn and Evan Tuttle making the Second Team.

Other Varsity Lettermen were Co-Captain Bob Vanderlaan, Mark Sigmon, Derek Krause, Carl Allamanno, Dave McCormick, Clay Tavernier, and Dean Manning.

GIRLS' CROSS-COUNTRY

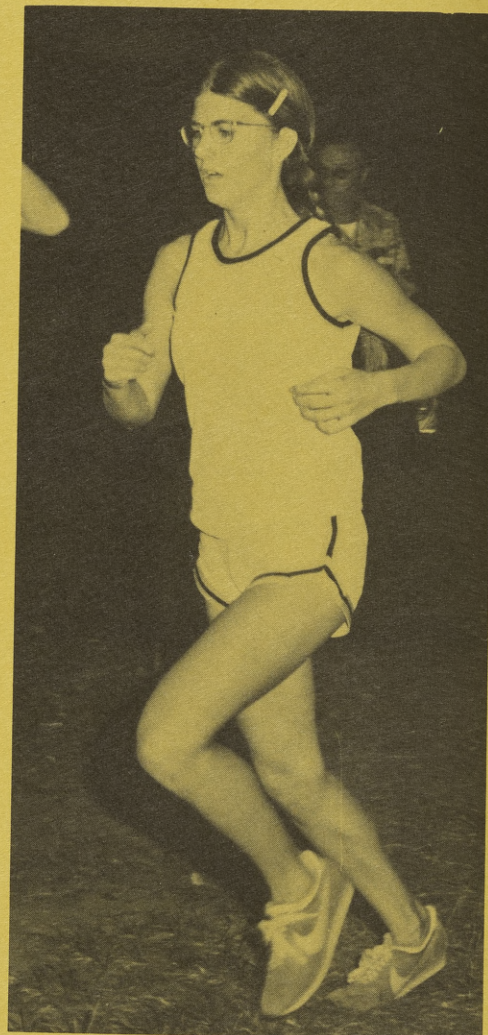

This year, the Girls Varsity Cross-Country Team showed both strength and consistency as they finished the season with a 7-1 dual meet record. Then, when the League Meet came, they really showed how tough they were by becoming the ACAL champions.

Junior Kathy Way was the individual League Champion and made the All-ACAL Team. Celia Wesenberg and team captain Kathy Bennett joined her on the All-League Team.

The Girls Soph-Frosh also showed their ability to run well by winning the league title in their division.

BOYS' JV, SOPH-FROSH CROSS-COUNTRY

The Boys Junior Varsity Team worked hard this year and was rewarded with the ACAL championship.

Outstanding

runners for the J.V.'s included Brad Barker, Keith Kindle, and Kenny Chord.

The Boys Soph-Frosh Team completed Alameda's sweep of cross-country titles by winning the ACAL in their division also. The team showed much talent and determination and holds great promise for future J.V. and Varsity teams.

GIRLS' TENNIS

In its first year of competition, the Alameda High Girls Tennis Team finished with a fine season of 11 wins and 2 losses.

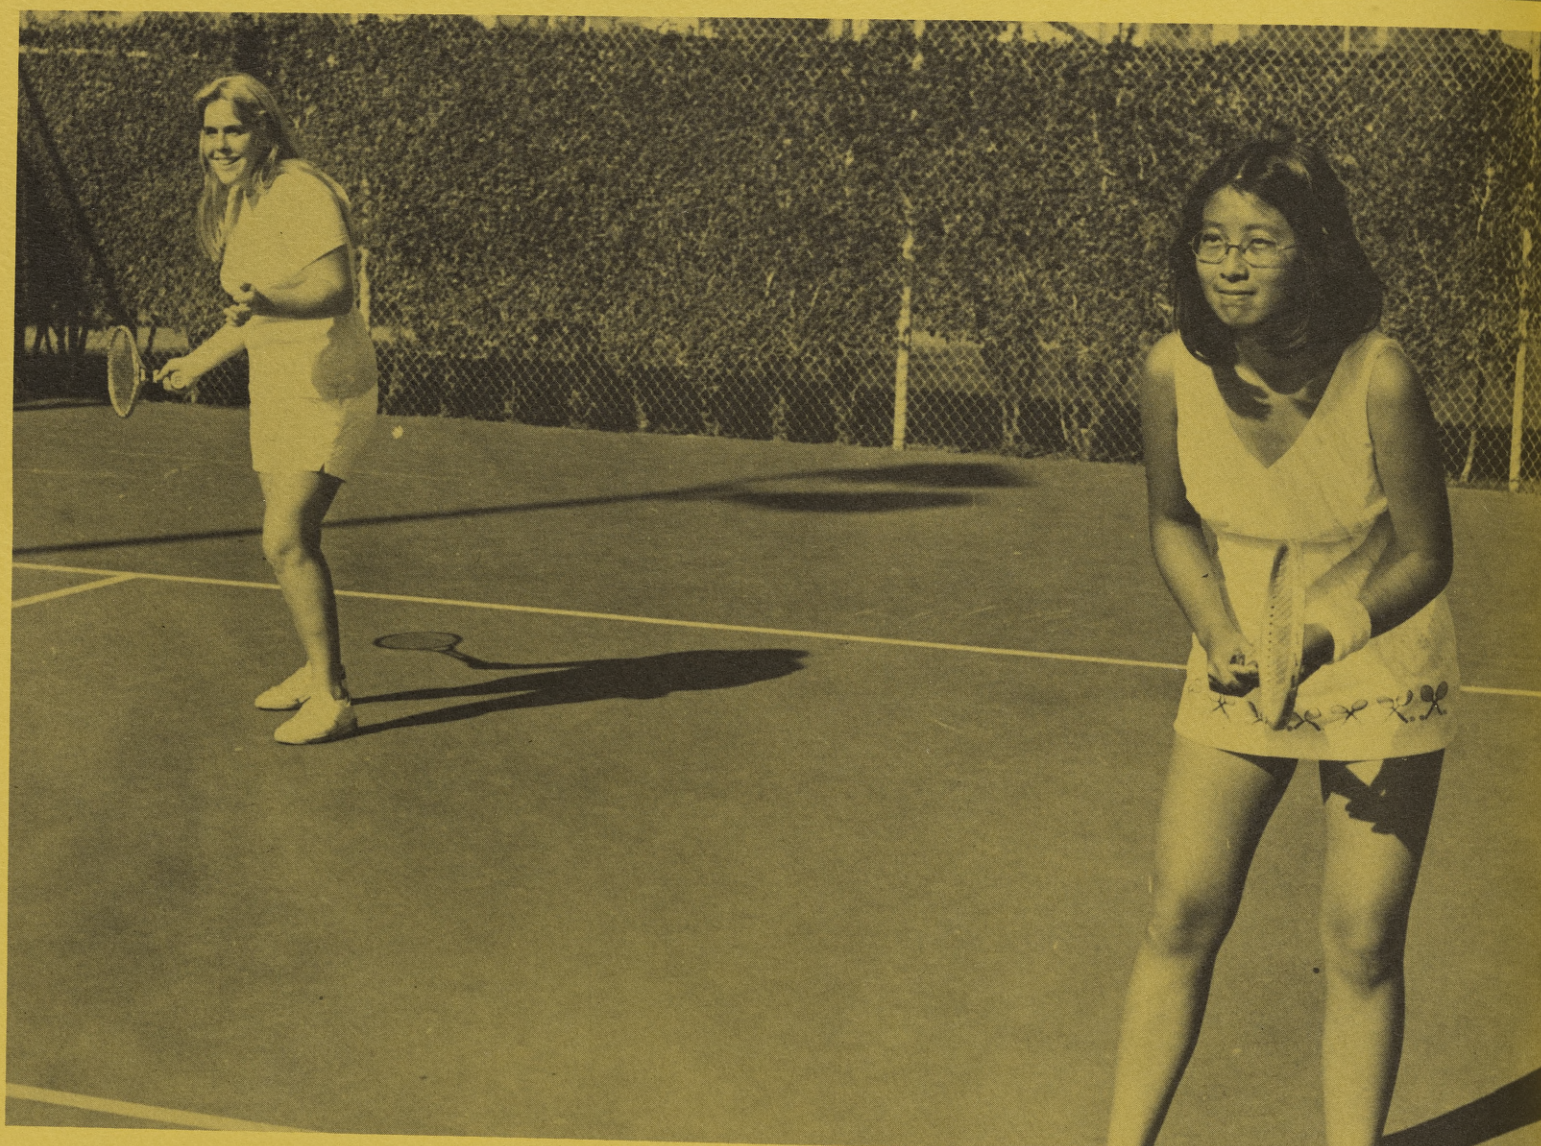

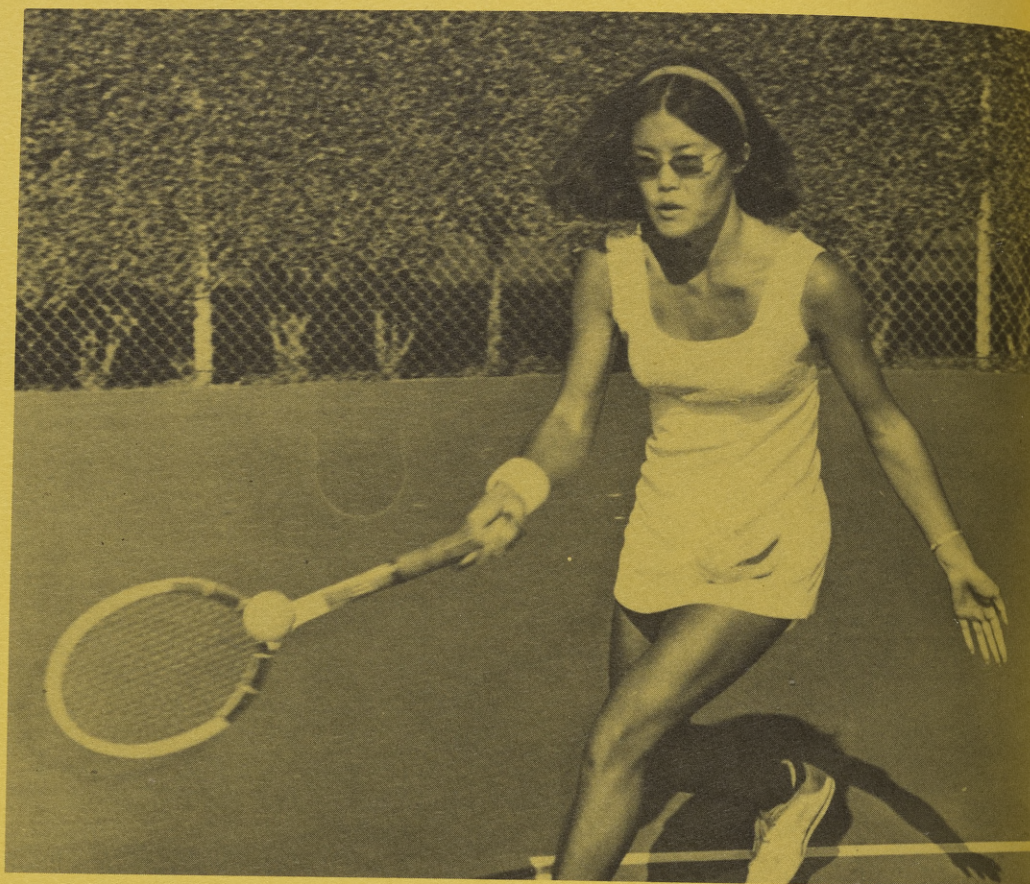

Co-captains Linda Luther and Tracey Wong won the ACAL doubles title and Terri Maritzen placed second in the ACAL singles tournament.

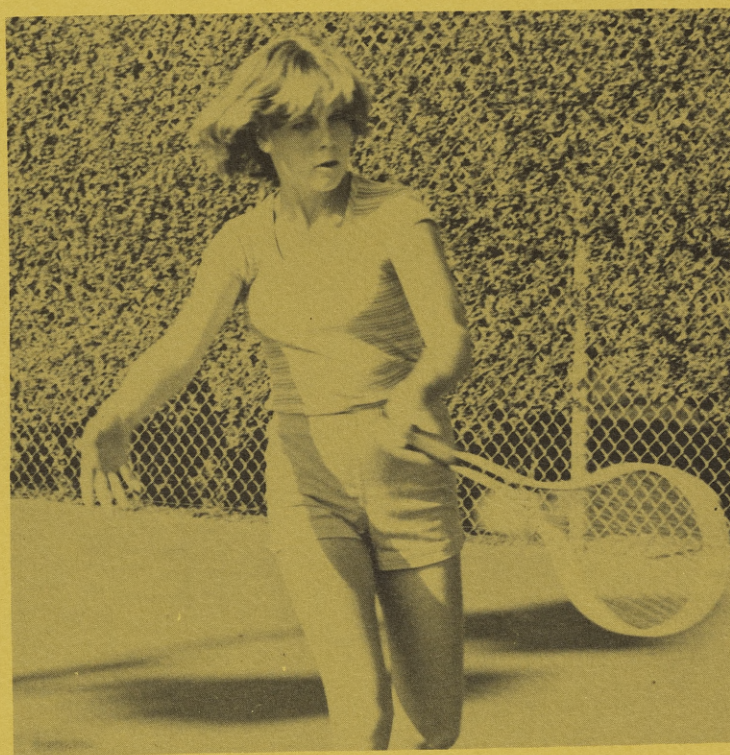

The team, coached by Dave Fairfield, voted Tracey Wong—Most Valuable,

Seanne Helbert and Rojielynn Arcega—Most Improved, Grace Reyes—Sportsmanship, and Terri Maritzen—Number One Trophy.

GIRLS' SWIM

This year, the AHS Girls Swim Team had a sensational season with a 12-0 record. It was a tough season in the new league. The girls both the ACAL and North Coast Championship. As in previous years, many records were broken in various relays and individual events.

WON

Outstanding swimmers who received awards were:

Most Inspirational - Judith Gulbransen
 Most Improved - Amy Clerk
 Most Valuable JV - Bobbi Jayne
 Most Valuable Varsity - Rebecca Amaguin
 Ash Jones Award - Pam Williams

GYMNASTICS

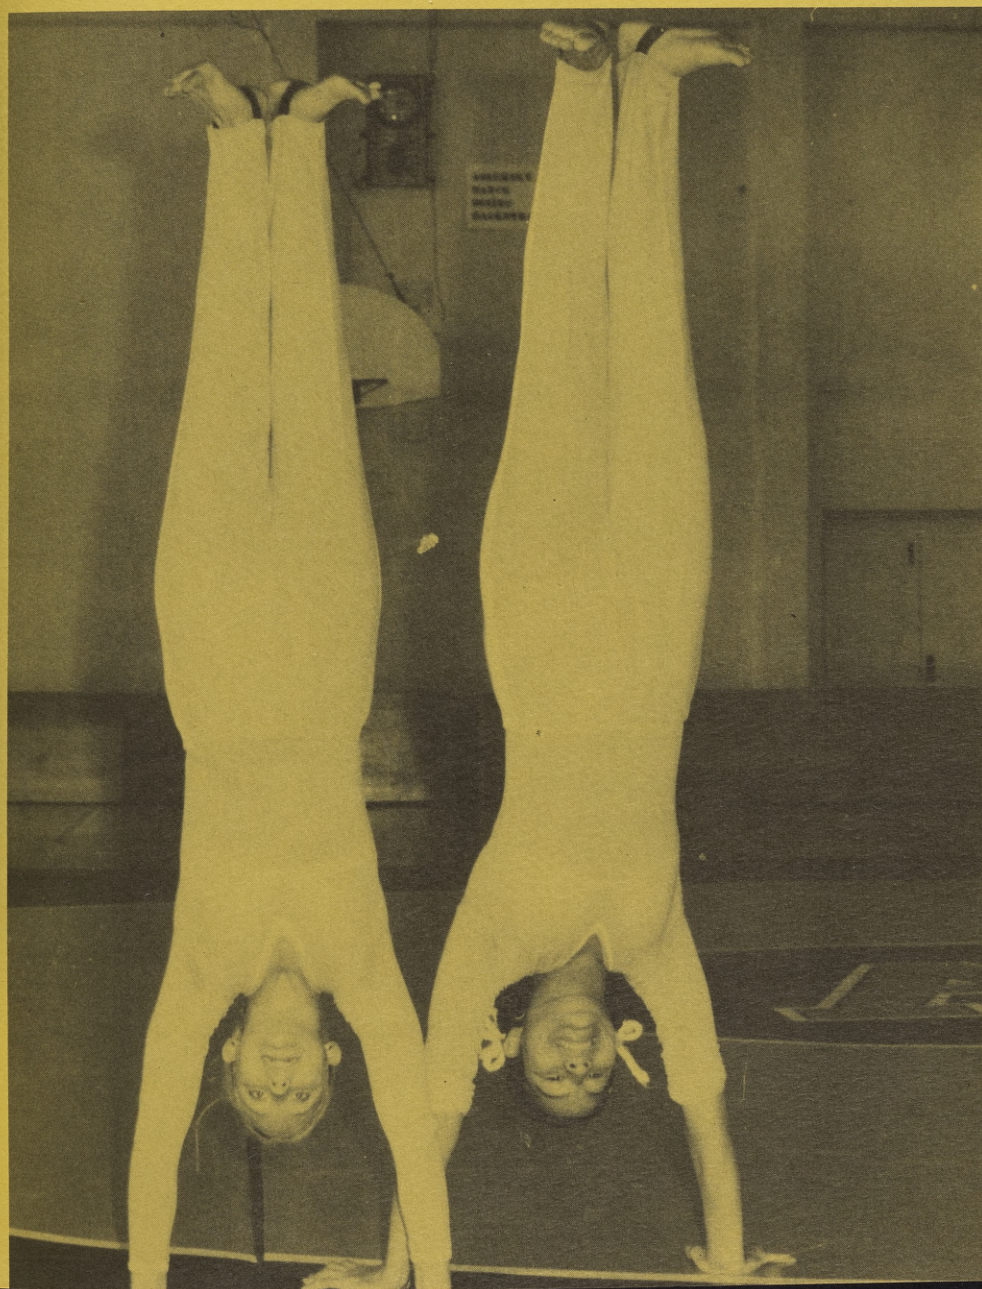

Led by Captain Enita Mullen and Co-Captain Chris Holmes, the Gymnastics Team had a very interesting season. Being part of the new league caused a few controversial changes. The usual seven month season was cut down to three months which meant concentrating intensely on the different routines.

Flag Meets were held with the other four teams in the league, followed by a grand finale All League Meet at San Leandro High School in November. The individual girls qualifying at the Big Meet went on to even tougher competition in the North Coast Sectionals and the State Meet.

As a team the gymnasts did more than just compete. They sponsored a Gym-na-thon to raise money for equipment, uniforms, and next year's team. Enita also stenciled team T-shirts for each member with the Team's motto: "Get Hyper!" on the back.

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

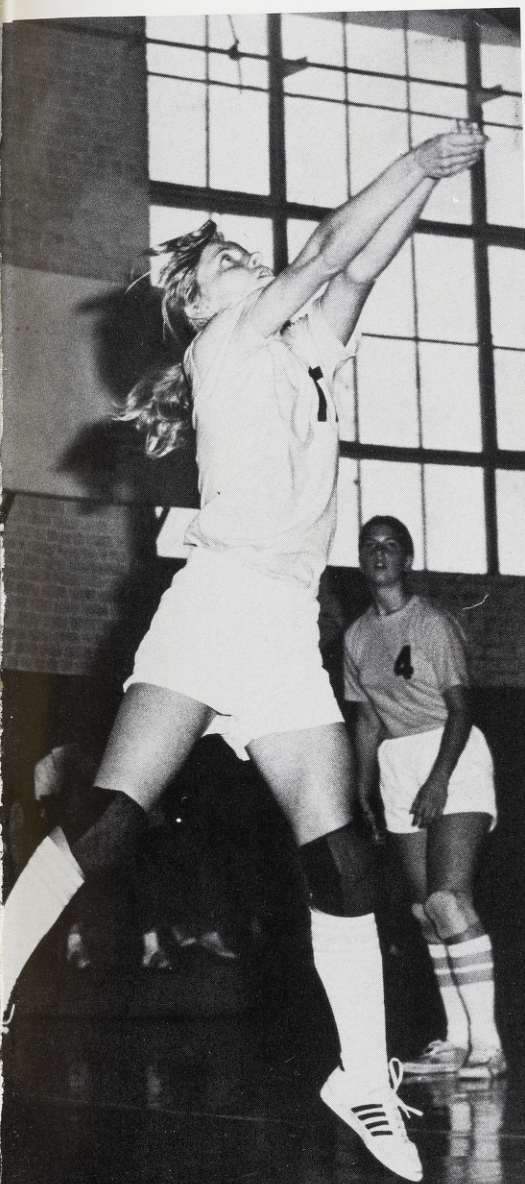

Volleyball became a new varsity sport for girls at AHS this year. Alameda finished in the middle of the ACAL standings with a record of 4-6. Varsity Captain Frances Williams was selected to the All-League Team and honorable mention honors went to Ida Taamu.

Other varsity awards included: Most Inspirational—Frances Williams; Most Improved—Becky Wride; Most Valuable Player—Ida Taamu. Junior varsity honors went to Terri Trujillo—Outstanding Senior J.V.; Lynn Hurwitz—Outstanding Junior J.V.; and Ruby Bennett—Outstanding Sophomore J.V. Kim Satriano and Sandi Janusch were official time keeper and scorekeeper, respectively. The team had a great time in its first season and is eagerly looking forward to next year.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Hornet Varsity Hoopers compiled an 8-14 record enroute to a tie for fourth place in the new ACAL. During the season the Hornets lost eight games by four points or less. The most frustrating

defeat came at the hands of Encinal 51-45 in overtime in the season finale. A win in that game would have given Alameda second place.

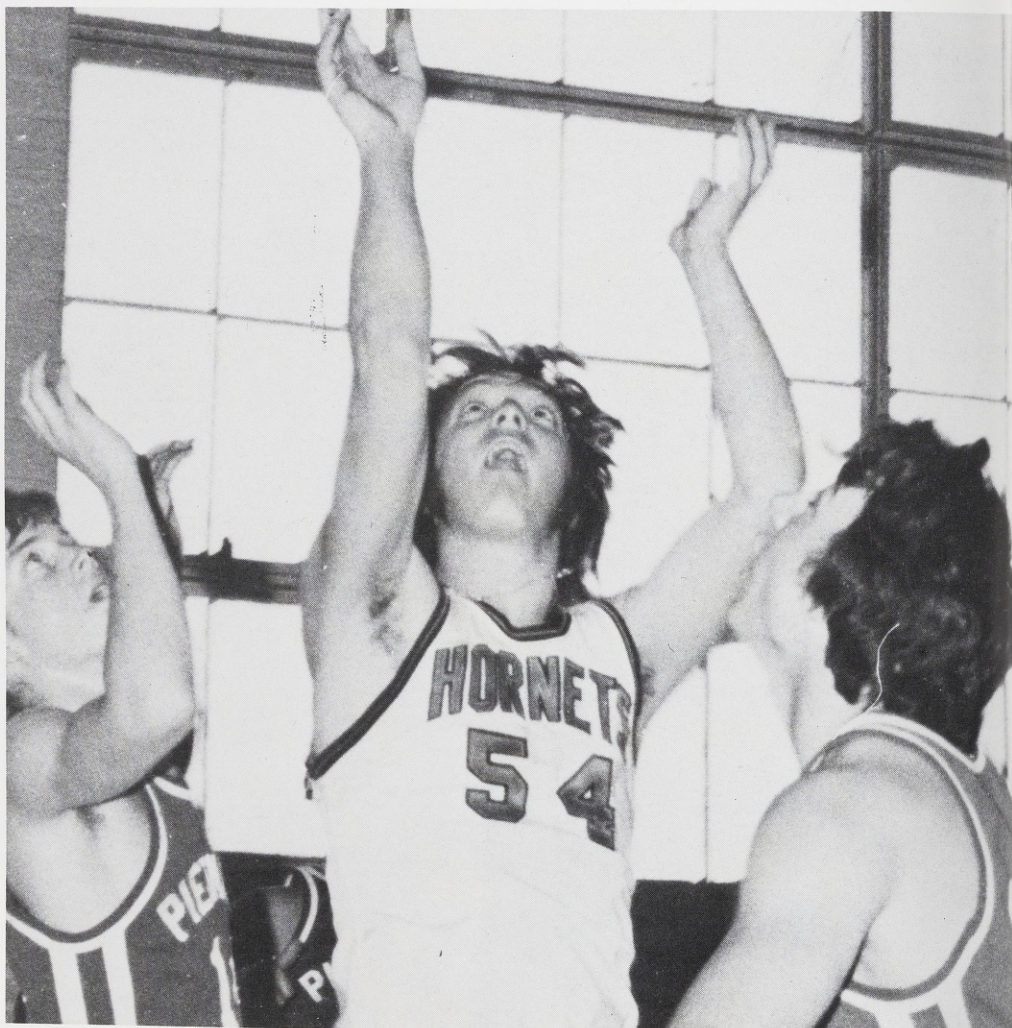

Pete Michaleto led the ACAL in rebounds and earned a second-team All-ACAL berth. Seniors Rich Bennett and Mike Carlson started at forwards. Bennett earned a honorable mention All-League, while Carlson was named the team's Most Improved Player at the end of the season.

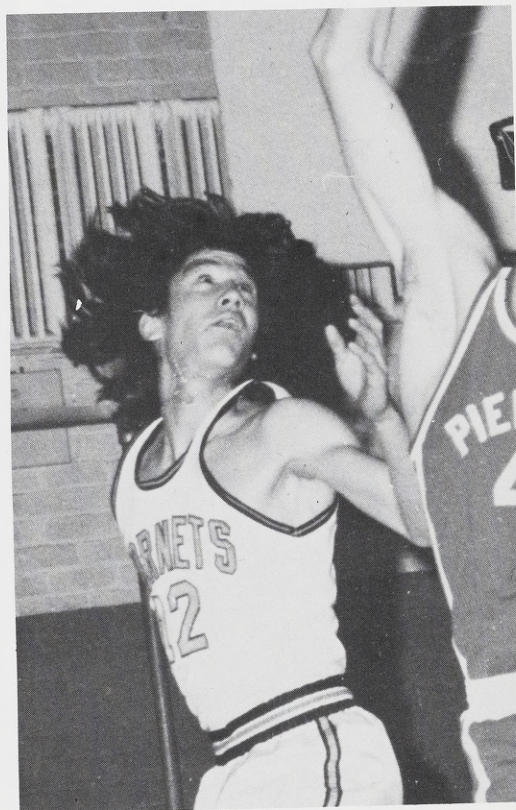

The guard spots were shared by Ray Snider, Peter Hayes, and Dwayne Brown. Reserves Clif Farina, John Quintal, Don Davis, Rusty Quintana, and Chuck Esparza also saw plenty of action.

At one point the Hornets won four straight league games, beating Pacific, Encinal, Piedmont, and San Leandro. Wins over Marina and Miramonte highlighted the pre-season action.

JV BASKETBALL

Alameda's Junior Varsity basketball team emphasized youth during the 1976-77 season. Coach Mel Arnerich started three sophomores and one freshman most of the season. Junior Martin Dickenson rounded out the starting five.

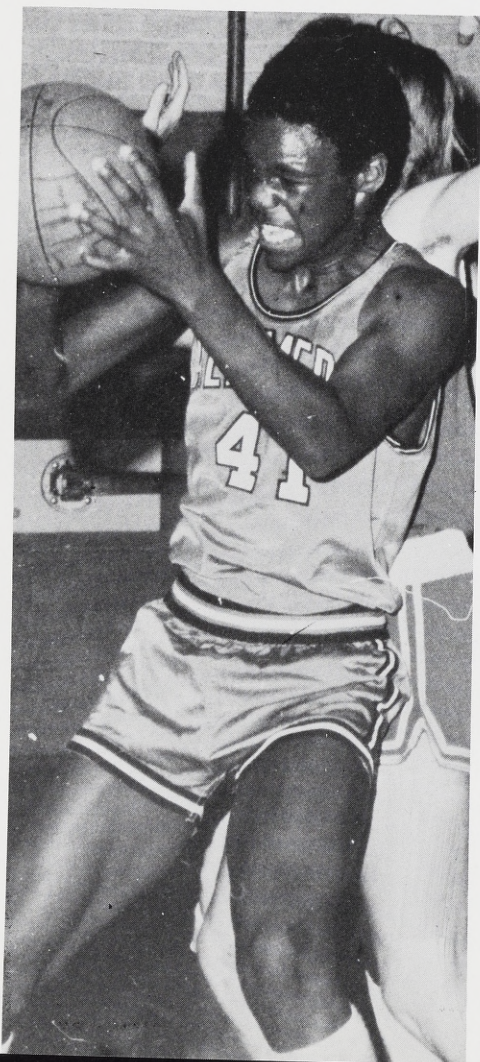

Tim Lund, Paul Knott, and Sandy Van Sickle shared

starting duties at the forward position. As sophs, all three are certain to provide stiff competition as varsity candidates next season. Backcourt duties were handled by freshman Ken Arnerich and sophomores Ted Horlbeck and Mark Pharr. Arnerich became the first ninth grader to start for the JV's in twenty years.

Newcomer Tim (Tiny) Lund proved to be a key performer. He scored 17 points in the second half of Alameda's come-from-behind win over Albany. Highlighting the Hornet season were two victories over Albany and a pre-season win over Marina.

FROSH BASKETBALL

First year coach Leroy Bernadou guided his Frosh team to its most successful season in ten years. A strong man-to-man defense and a disciplined offense were the keys to the yearling success.

The Hornets finished

strong,

compiling league wins over Piedmont, Encinal, Albany, and Bancroft twice.

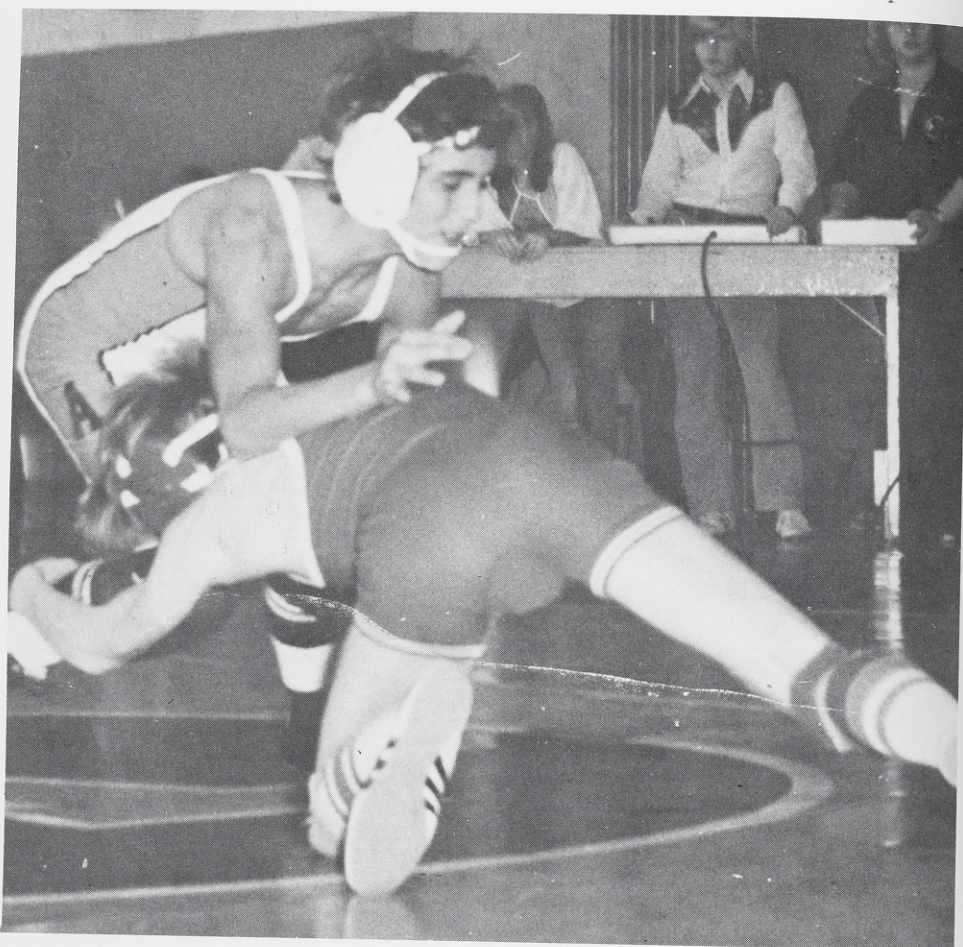

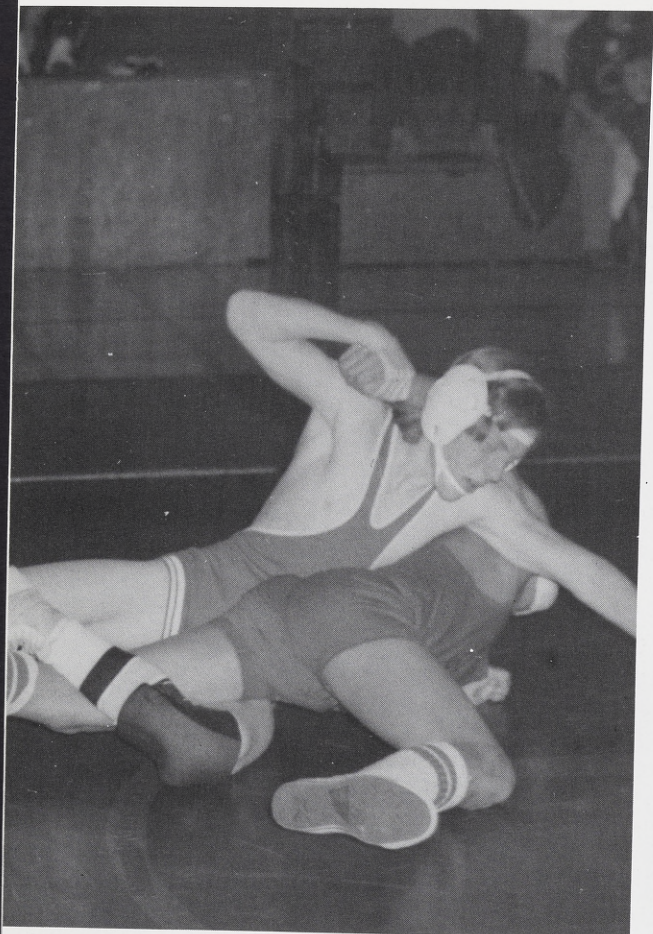

Leading the Frosh were guards Jerry Ogden and Jerry Nilahdarong, forwards Gilbert Mora and Casey Leach, and centers Darrell Holt and Charlie Henderson. Ogden and Mora led the team in scoring while Holt and Leach were the top rebounders.

WRESTLING

The Hornet Wrestlers completed their first year of Varsity competition with three men winning individual ACAL titles.

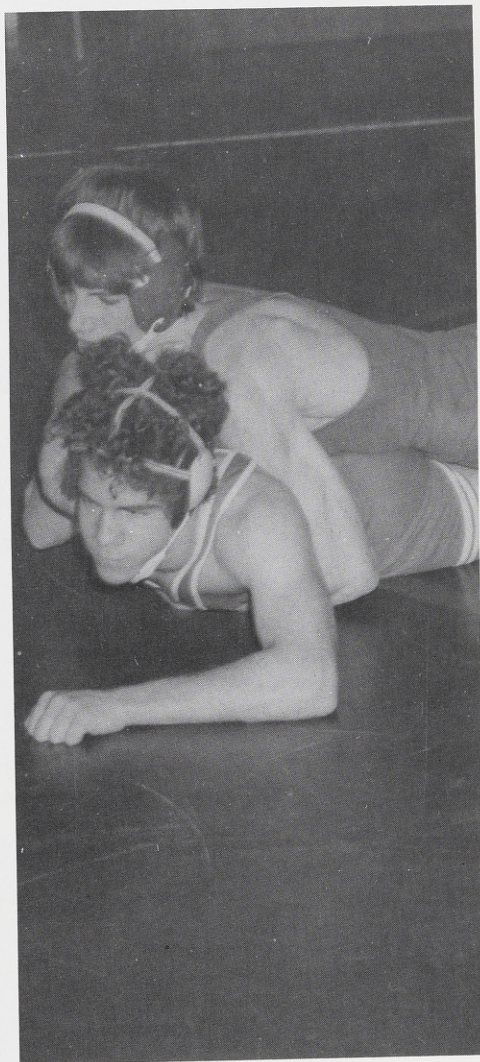

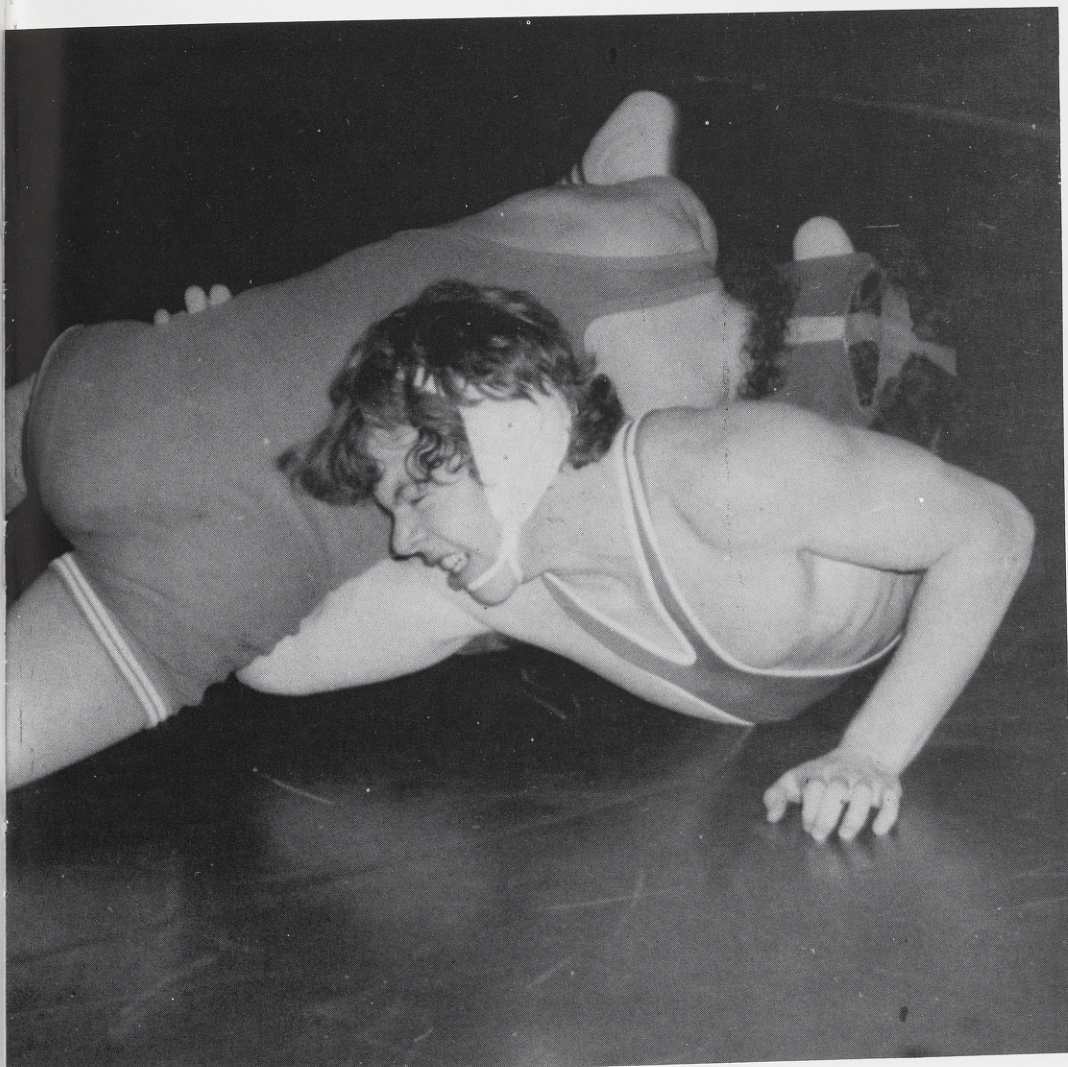

Bob McLaughlin in the 156 pound class, Steve Markey at 115 pounds, and brother Bruce at 98

captured individual crowns and competed in the North Coast Championships. McLaughlin finished fourth in the North Coast Meet, winning four of six matches.

The team, under the direction of John Evans, finished with a 6-8 record in dual meet competition. Other top performers and their weight classes include: Phil Bonadona (105), Mason Aborashid (122), Eugene Takahashi (129), Barry Nunes (135), Mike Floyd (140), Rod Pimentel (169), Steve Lewis (175), and Dennis Darby (Heavyweight).

VARSITY BASEBALL

A strong pitching staff and a veteran infield enabled the Varsity Baseball team to have a successful season. Righthander Rich Bennett was the team's fireman as he proved to be the club's big stopper throughout the year. Juniors Steve Garrett, John Belmares, and Rusty Quintana, along with Sophomores Rick Hernandez and Bryan Calestini also pitched effectively for the Hornets.

The infield featured veterans Pete Michaleto at third, Brad Calestini at shortstop, and Gary Berti at second, with Junior Martin Dickenson, up from last year's JV's, handling first base.

Coach Leroy Bernadou also used the talents of Armando Santos, Art Fuentes, and Rick Hernandez in the outfield and Clif Farina as a utility infielder.

JV BASEBALL

Alameda High's Junior Varsity Baseball team built a foundation for the future by stressing youth. Frosh infielders Ken Arnerich, Jerry Ogden, and Kurt Cecconi, along with outfielder Jeff Brasel led a frosh contingent that played regularly during the season.

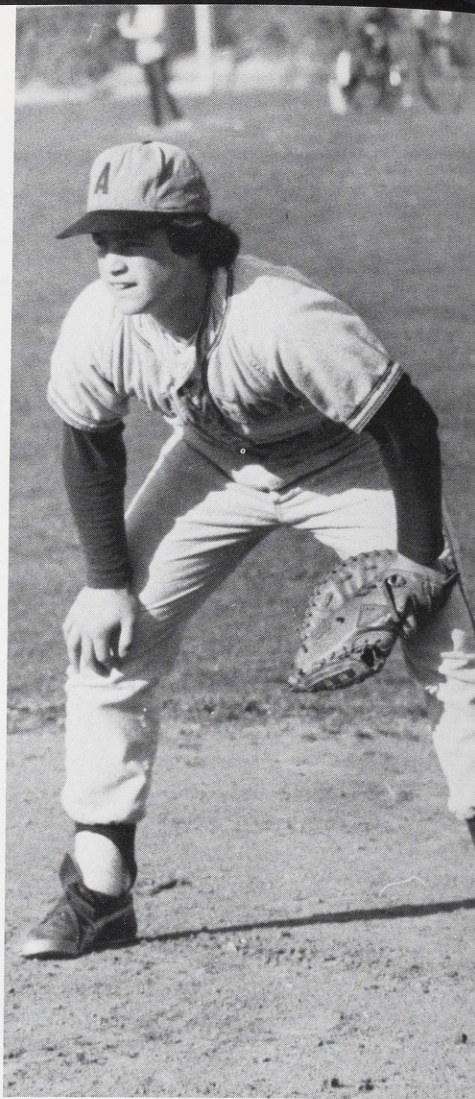

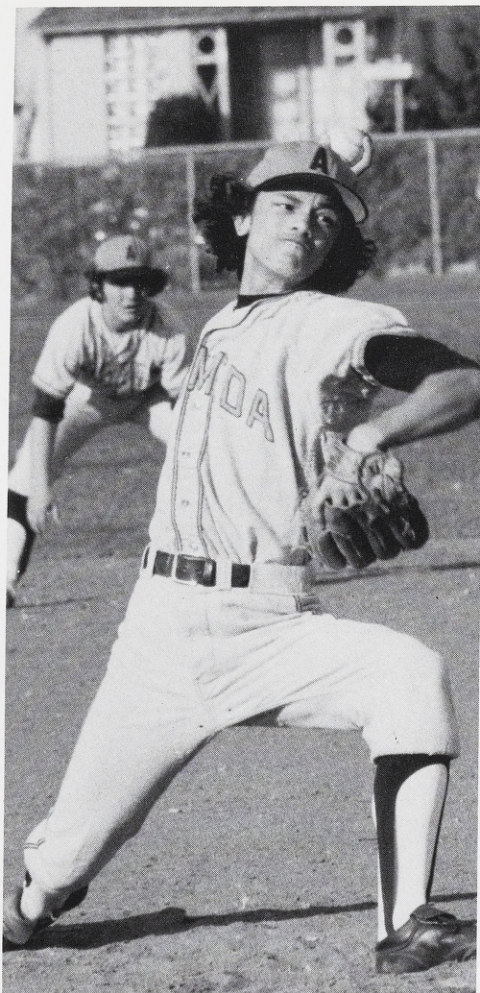

Sophomore catcher Jimmy Ogden gave the team needed leadership behind the plate. Throwing to Ogden were pitchers Norman Shauf, Paul Goode, and Ron Carlson.

Soph Morris "The Florist" Bonadona handled the second base

spot, while juniors Greg Morgado and Jamie Hyame contributed to the infield play. Outfielder Pat Regan also proved invaluable in the field and at the plate. Rookie Coach Greg Garrett molded the JV's into a pennant contender by the beginning of the league season.

SOFTBALL

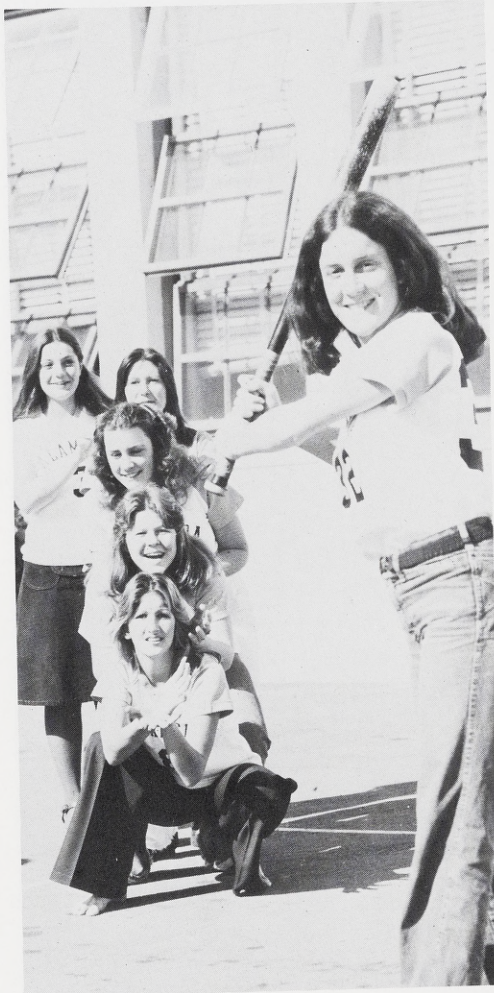

Although the AHS Girls' Softball Team embarked on its maiden voyage this year, its maidens were anything but inexperienced. Due to an extensive recreational softball program many of the girls had already been playing for a number of years. Now that Alameda High decided to enter a team into league competition, all this from various past experiences meshed as one unit. With a long season of fourteen games starting in March and ending in May, the combination proved successful. At the end of the season the League Winners went on to a Tournament of Champions.

Next year the ACAL Champions will be eligible for the North Coast Finals. The teams involved in the league are Alameda, Albany, Encinal, Pacific, Piedmont, and San Leandro. All home games were played at Rittler Park.

VARSITY TRACK

Living up to their 21-5 record over the past three years wasn't easy, but the Varsity Track Team showed fine talent in ACAL competition. With a long season, beginning in March and continuing right through June, the young team had an impressive season.

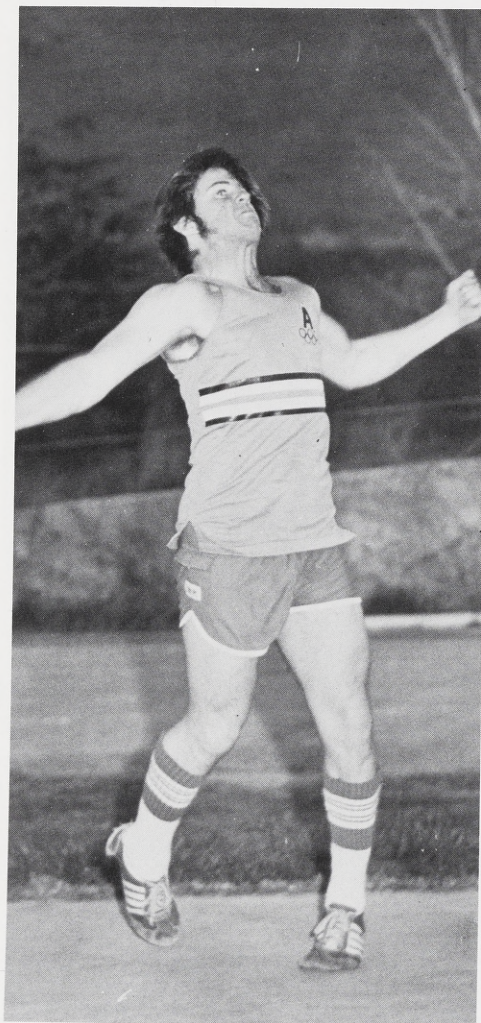

Standouts for the Hornet track team and their events

included Ray Kindle (long distance); J. Peters (440-880); Glen Cortez (long jump and triple jump); Mark Candelario and Mike Roberts (shot put and discus); Alan Khoury (long jump); Jeff Silverman and Mark Breazeal (hurdles and high jump); Guy Nohra and John Ung (sprints); Charlie Thomas (high jump); and Dave Reitz (pole vault).

Despite a lack of facilities, the team did well both in the league and in many invitationals throughout the season, which matched AHS against schools outside the East Bay.

'B' TRACK

Showing determination, pride, and promise for future Varsity teams, the "B" Track Team finished strong in the new league with a successful season. Many fine cross-country runners

made the team strong in many events.

Outstanding stars included Don Diola and Brian Thompson in the mile and 2 mile events, Mitch Curry in the 440 and 880 yard dashes, Richard Young in the triple jump, and sprinters Marco Placentia, Steve Healy, and Mark Totorica.

GIRLS' TRACK

Under the leadership of Bill "Coach" Thompson and Gary Fenstermaker, the Girls' Track Team completed its second year of competition in the ACAL. With a large number of experienced veterans returning from last year, the team sprinted

through the season and on to the league championship. Many newcomers also added to the team's overall talent and ability.

Standouts on the team included Linda Read (shot put and discus), Kathy Way (880, mile, and 2 mile), Kelly Hamilton (low hurdles), and Hamilton, Patti Fischer, Pam Gilmore, and Judy Pangelinan in the 440 Relay.

BOYS' SWIM

The 1977 Alameda High Swim Team featured youth and speed. With only three seniors on the squad, the Hornets had three top

sprinters. They were Rocky Withers, Steve McKenna, and Bob Bas. Returning lettermen Chris Dodge, Joe Houghton, Stewart Payne, and Bill Thompson were counted upon to take up the slack left by the loss of seven seniors from last year's ACAL Championship team.

JV lettermen Jim Blom, Mike Eby, Carl and Dale Herrigstad, and incoming freshmen Mike Foster and Mike Grace contributed to the Varsity Team.

The Hornets faced a very tough dual meet schedule, but were able to successfully defend their ACAL title at the end of the season.

GOLF

With six returning lettermen from last year's championship squad, the AHS Golf Team once again had a successful season. A strong team from Piedmont High replaced Berkeley in the new ACAL, but Alameda once again was up to par

as it won the league championship for the eighth consecutive year, and finished second in the North Coast Sectional Finals.

The returning lettermen included Andy Paisal, Kris Moe, Mike Maurice, Mike Clar, and Elesio Buccatt. Many other juniors, sophomores, and five freshmen rounded out the champion team.

BOYS' TENNIS

Though the AHS Boys' Tennis Team was not totally composed of males, it did play a lot of tennis. Starting in March and continuing through May, the team had a successful season in the new ACAL. Five returning lettermen (letterpersons?) helped the squad, coached by Leland Stanford, finish strong in league competition.

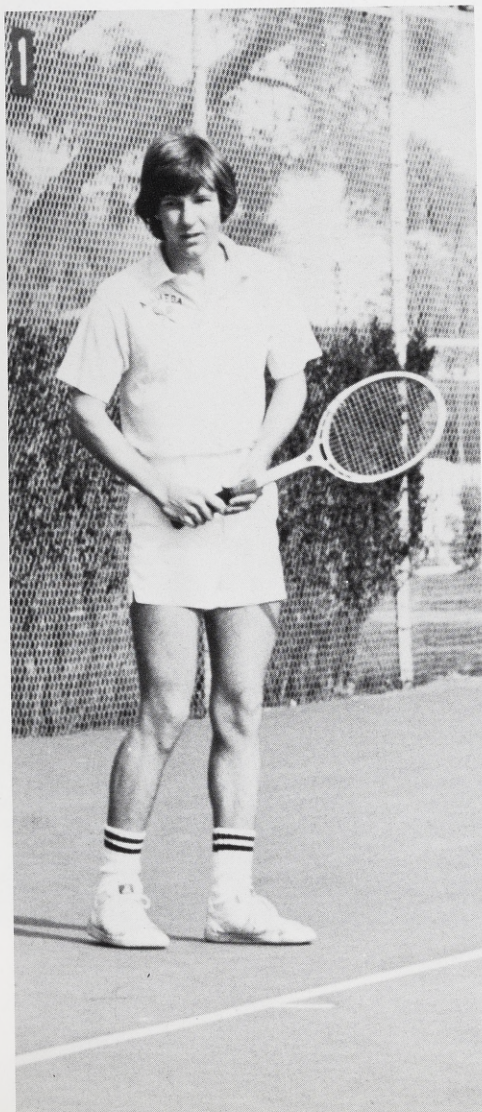

Leading the team was senior Matt Murphy, in his third consecutive year as the number one player on the squad. He was named to the Prep Sports High School All-American Team in 1977, after consistently leading the league the past two years. Close behind was his sister, Charlene, who has held the number two spot since she was a freshman. Both talented siblings brought pride to AHS by being named to the High School All-American Team in 1976.

Other outstanding singles players included captain Dave Samuelson, a junior who has played Varsity since his freshman year; senior Doug Buettner, in his fourth year on the team; and Randall Lee, also a veteran on the Varsity squad.

Doubles stars included senior Mike Hoffman, William Chin, Kelly Pak, Brian Fox, Whitney Gaunt, and Kevin Hennessee.

WATER POLO

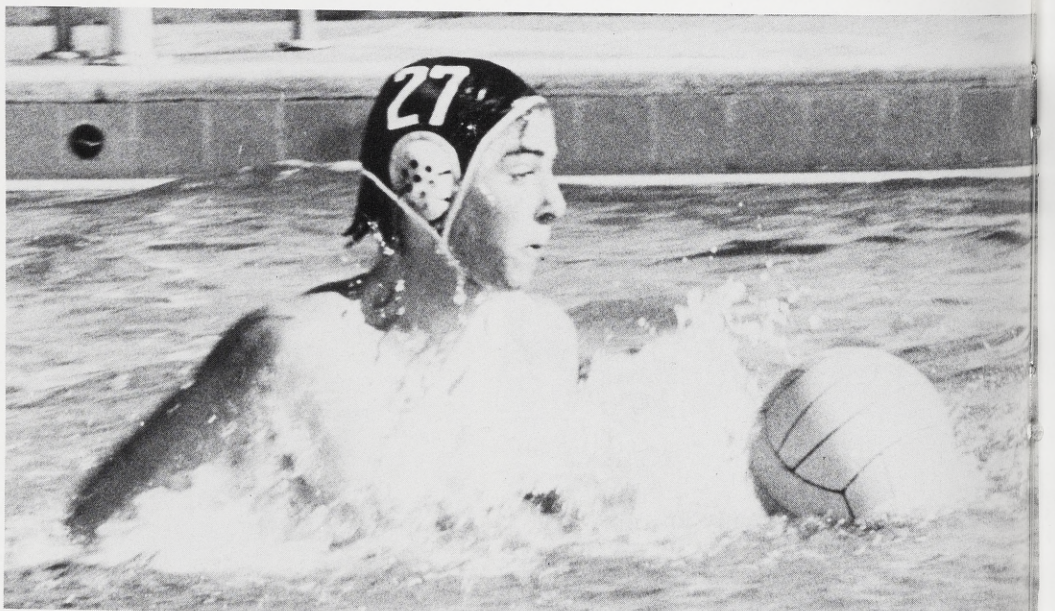

"Beginning the season without a single starting player from last year's team, the 1976 Hornet Water Polo squad compiled a 4-13 record and a sixth place finish in the nine team Independent Water Polo League. Leading the Alameda scorers were junior Steve McKenna and senior Bob Bas. Jim Blom and Stewart Pavne added senior strength to the young team.

Looking forward to next season will be junior lettermen Carl Herrigstad and Chris Dodge and sophomore letter winners Jeff Heimans, Dale Herrigstad, Mike Eby, Bill Thompson, Richard Gray, and Joe Houghton. Also moving up from the JV squad will be Larry Peterson and Mike Foster."

BADMINTON

Coach Diane Bartell guided 20 team members through Alameda High's first season on Varsity Badminton. Badminton was one of three new girls' teams started this year.

Nancy Ung and Dorothy Lopes were co-captains while Judy Lee was manager. Top players included: Tammy Knott, Nancy Ung, Liz Kools, Adrienne Yee, Triny Jauco, Diana Lee, Becky Wride, Dorothy Lopes, Fonnies Lau, Jan Brown, Kelly Hovey, Pam Williams, Jennie Bell, and Lynn Hurwitz.

The team played eight league games, with ten singles and five doubles matches making up a game. Only Piedmont did not field a team in the ACAL.

CHESS

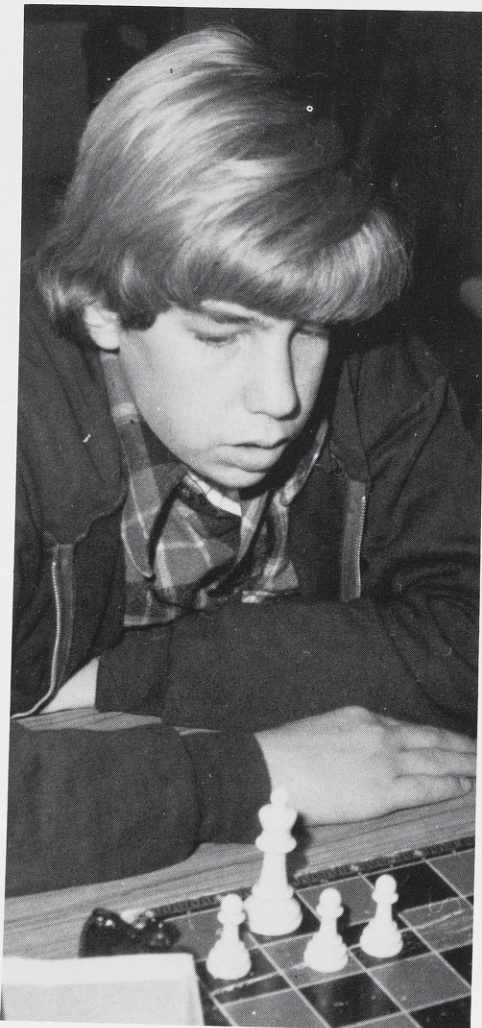

What league sport at Alameda High requires stamina, concentration, dedication, practice, and—the ability to sit on a hard chair for hours on end? Give up? It's that sport of kings (and queens, and knights, and pawns. . .) — CHESS.

The defending league champion Alameda High Chess Team battled

to a fourth place finish in this year's chess competition. Returning members of last year's championship team were first board senior Mike Hoffman, second board senior Barton Bolmen, and third board junior Steve Canepa. Newcomers to the team this year were sophomore Freeman Ng, freshman Mike Hamilton, and sophomore Dennis Johnisee. This year's team compiled a 4-3 record, defeating Piedmont, San Leandro, Pinole, and Marina, and losing to Skyline, Oakland, and Encinal.

RIFLE

The Alameda High School Varsity Rifle Team participated in shoulder to shoulder matches against Oakland and San Francisco schools and also against the "Arch-rival", Encinal High School. The members that qualified received a school block "A".

SENIORS

Leading the Class of '77 this year were Presidents Andy Oliveira and Nickie Kapellas. Working with the other officers and many active seniors, they organized and carried out many successful activities and money-makers.

The Senior Banquet was cancelled due to lack of participation

but a spaghetti feed was held in March which helped bring in money as well as adding fun to the senior year. A candy sale and the Senior Play also helped to build up the Senior Treasury.

Highlighting and climaxing the year was the Senior Ball in June. Careful planning and good organizing made it a great success.

SENIOR PLAY

The graduating class of 1977 chose "Dark of the Moon" as their senior play. It was, of course, a success.

The play, directed by Lon Eakes, was about the love of a witch-boy for the beautiful mountain girl, Barbara Allen. They were married and very happy until the superstitions and prejudices of the mountain people toward witches

caused their love to end in tragedy.

Stars included Patty Pannell, Alan Woodward, Jan Brown, Sherri Chord. Terry Williams, Steve Freitas, Gary Sabo, Glenyse Henschel, Angela Lerone, Dayna McGraw, Mike Ryan, Tom Royer, Janine Nish, Chris Kapellas, Greg Matthews, Gigi Codman, Alan Saxton, Gavin Payne, Pat Barnes, Sheri Perata, Keith Hockins, and Kathy Sabo. Banners, programs, and posters were done very nicely by Lori Buhnerkempe, and Julie Barrantes was stage manager.

The Class of '78 always knew that they had a lot of spirit, but they proved it to the whole school by taking first place in Spirit Week competition for the second year in a row. The class

also continued to excel in fund raising, as a candy sale and a benefit dance added to the large amount of money in their treasury.

Highlighting the year was the Junior Prom, held on March 12 at the Edgewater Hyatt in Oakland. It turned out to be a great success, due to excellent planning by the leaders of the Junior class and their fine advisor, Mr. Lochner.

SOPHOMORES

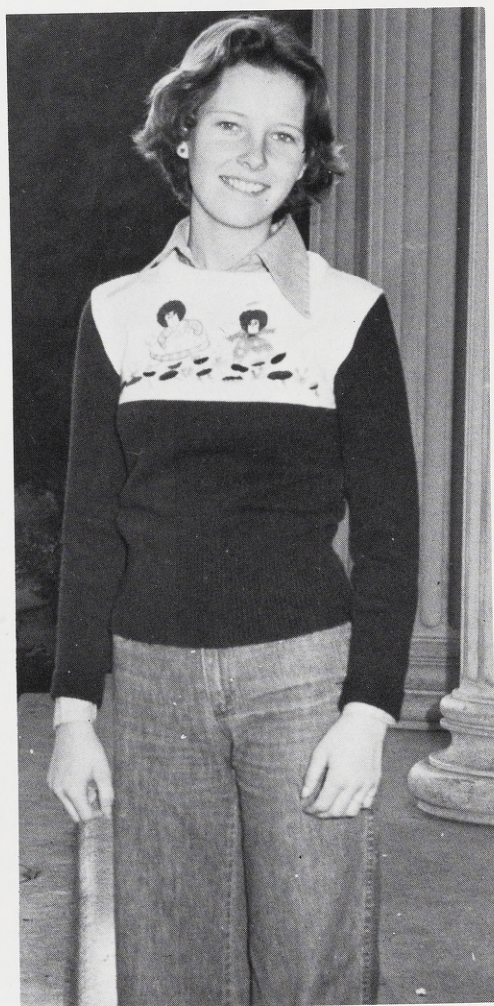

Presidents Tammy Foster and Kim Wilson led the Class of '79 through its second year at AHS. With the assistance of class advisor Mr. Stanford, the sophomores had an active

year, raising funds and having fun.

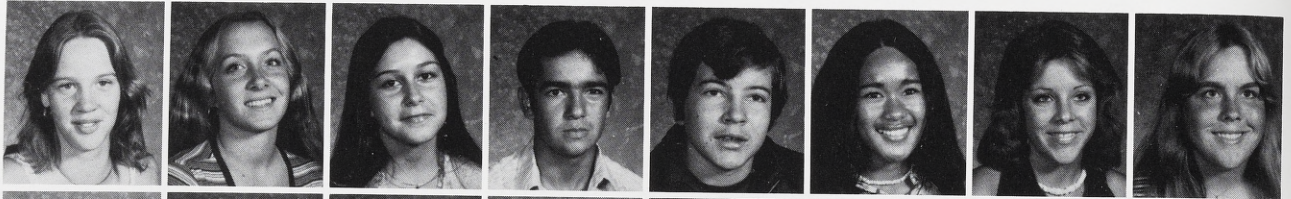

The Sophomore Spaghetti Feed turned out to be a big money-maker for the class, and everyone involved had a good time. Highlighting the year was the Soph-Hop on December 10 in the gym. "The Mistletoe Twist" attracted hundreds of students from every class and was quite a success.

FRESHMEN

Though it was rough at first, the Class of '80 pulled themselves together and demonstrated a lot of unity in class activities, especially Spirit Week. The "Filthy Freshman" showed the other classes the glory of grime with pride. The class got a late start on the year when an advisor couldn't be found and elections weren't held, but Mrs. Watson came to the rescue and got the class together. Led by Presidents Cindy Gilmore and Todd Aragon, the freshmen showed great promise for a great class in the years to come.

ADMINISTRATION

"The role and function of the Administration at Alameda High School is to help facilitate the learning of each individual student by organizing and coordinating efforts of all departments, groups, and other individuals. We find it a distinct pleasure to work with and for students at Alameda High School."

COUNSELORS

The goals of the counselors at A.H.S. are to help all students learn more about their abilities and interests and to help students get themselves together.

The counselors also help

students find out about opportunities offered high school students, such as work experience, jobs, and college.

Mr. Ashley Jones

MATH DEPARTMENT

"Life is a mathematical game. Let's face it, Math is here to stay. Everywhere we turn, we see some form of mathematics exemplified in nature;

the buildings around us, advancements in technology - Our Universe.

The math teachers at AHS try to convey a positive attitude towards math and help the student to realize not only the need but the inherent beauty of mathematics."

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

"English. Everyone knows what that is. (Do you mean grammar?) No, that's not English, exactly. (Spelling, then, and vocabulary?) No, not only spelling and vocabulary. (Reading, like novels and stories. And poems, maybe.) Closer. (And writing. Writing essays and interviews and journals and doing profile boxes.) Much closer now. (And Shakespeare. And using the video equipment. And children, making books for the children in the elementary schools. And there's the Subject A. That's really English. Everyone knows. . . .) Yes, yes. (Plato, too. He wasn't English, but. . . And learning to focus, to create from our own centres, to understand the two sides of the brain, to balance different ways of knowing who we are.) That fits. There's more, of course. But, for this year, there's English. . . ."

SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

This year the Social Science department was chaired by Don Perata. Social Science members are now evaluating their present course offerings, and considering new possibilities for classes next year. These include courses in contemporary issues, the history of the arts, geography, and special study emphasis in social and political history.

Special features in the department included: Ad-Board, Leadership, the Alameda Police-Ride-Along program, and a battery of guest speakers in the government classes. These speakers included Congressman Pete Stark, Assemblyman Bill Lockyer, and many local leaders.

Mr. Don Perata

Mr. Grant Robinson

Mr. Robert Lochner

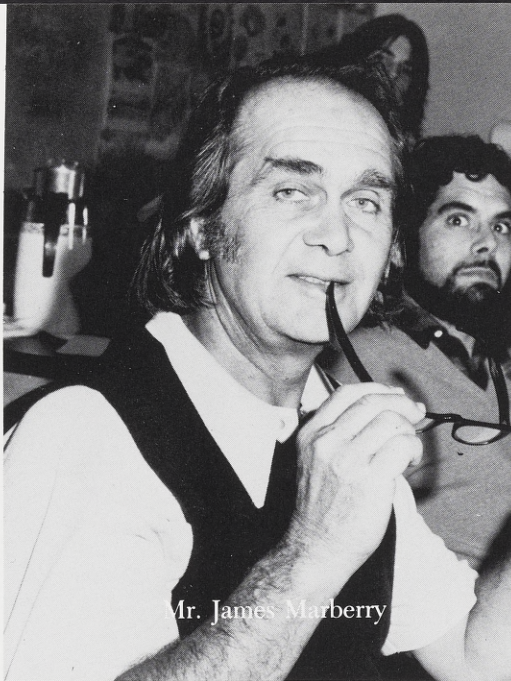

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

This year's Science department expanded its curriculum to include a large assortment of activity courses. The aim of the department was to change science from courses for the intellectually elite to ones for everyone.

The goal for the future is that everyone can get something from science besides

ten credits toward a diploma.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

The Business department was chaired this year by Mrs. Penelope Madison. Its goal is to prepare students for the

of business.

Skills taught through the department include typing, shorthand, and the operation of various types of machines used in office work.

Future plans of the Business department include bettering their department by adding a duplicating center and other improvements.

Mrs. Raylene Dill

Mr. Cecil Van Sickle

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

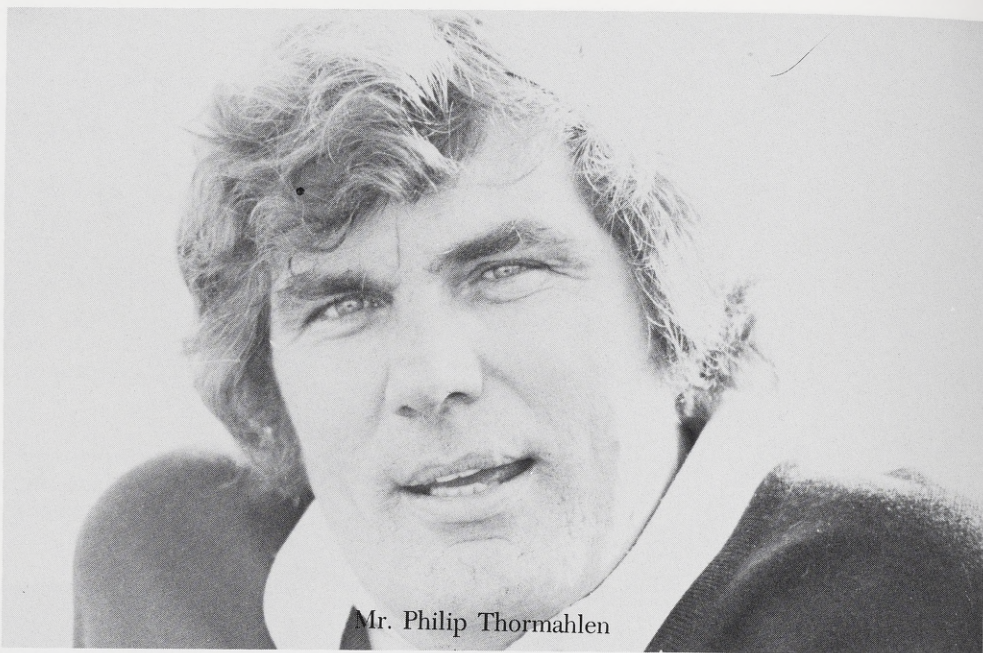

This year the Industrial Arts Department offered Mechanical Drawing, Machine Shop, Wood Crafts, Welding and Auto Shop. In these classes students learned to build and create in a technical way.

Among the skills learned by the students were the use of various types of machines, reading blueprints, welding, working with wood, and repairing autos.

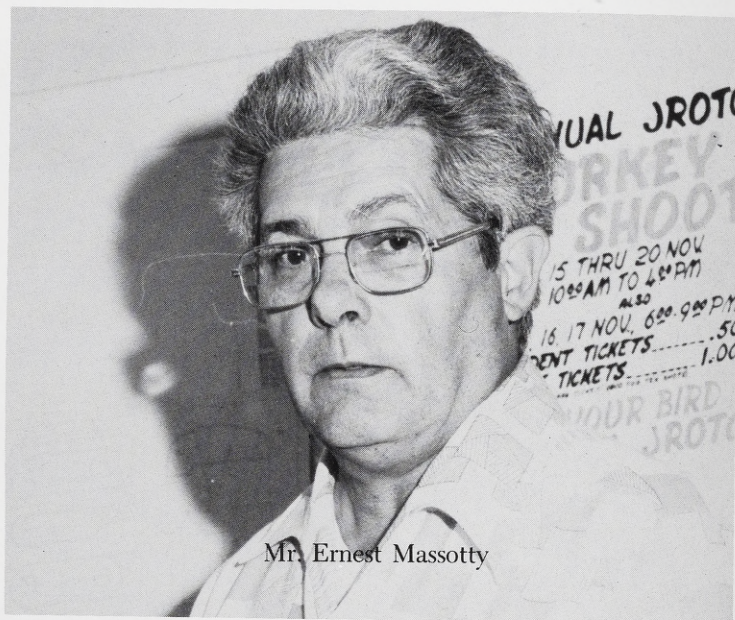

In observing the construction of the new school, students could see how industrial arts work together in a practical way.

FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT

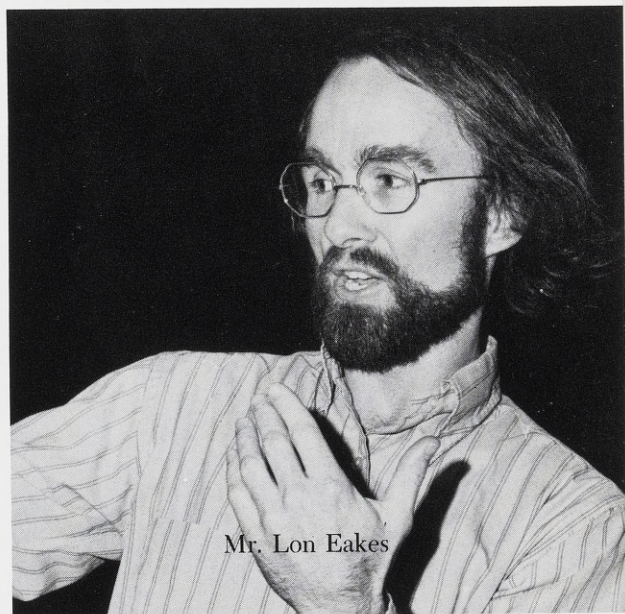

The primary goal of the Fine Arts Department is to find an individual and collective appreciation and expression

for creative arts. Whether it's from molding a piece out of clay, performing on a stage before an audience, expressing yourself through a picture, or playing your favorite instrument, the goal of the Fine Arts Department is to increase the students' capacity for experiencing the enjoyment of creative arts.

Mr. Lon Eakes

Mrs. Inez Whitton

Mrs. Charmaine Facchin

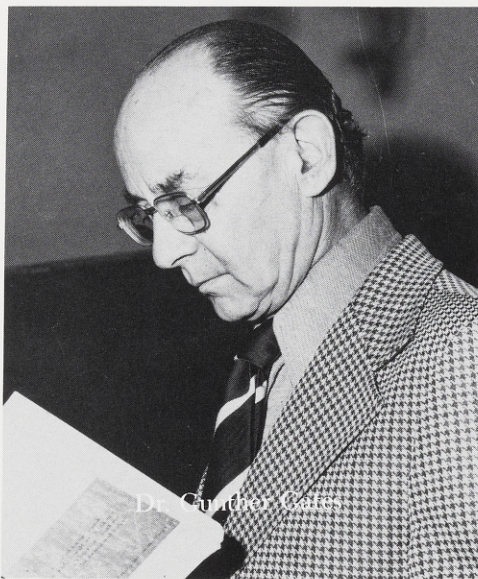

FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

This year foreign language classes were very active. Enrollment was on the up-swing with 620 students signed up for one or more of the four languages offered.

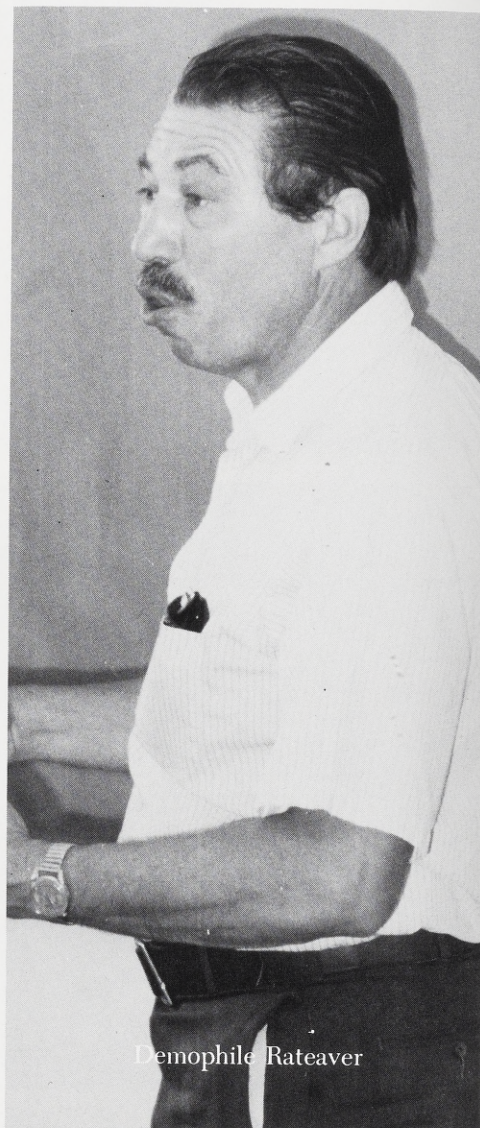

Classes participated in many varied activities including car washes, eating at cultural restaurants, food festivals, traveling to other countries through slides, listening to guest speakers, and corresponding with pen pals.

P.E. DEPARTMENT

There was a tremendous change in the P.E. Department this year at A.H.S. No longer is there girls and boys P.E. The two departments got it together to form a completely co-ed P.E. Department.

Although P.E. was made optional to all Juniors and Seniors, only a small percentage of the upper classmen dropped P.E.

Even with all the changes, the teachers and students found it to be a rewarding year.

"Good

Though the 1976-1977 school year may not prove to be the last for the present structures, it is a certainty that sometime in the future a transition will occur. The words "Alameda High School" will no longer identify three massive buildings on Central Avenue, but will instead refer to a modern facility two blocks away on Encinal.

Alameda High

will enter a new era—a time for new beginnings in every aspect of school life. It will be like the spring season—a period of fresh hopes, of renewed goals, of high expectations. This feeling of newness will encompass the whole school at first, then slowly diminish, until routines once again set in and the past is forgotten. Adjectives like "new" and "old" will gradually cease to be used.

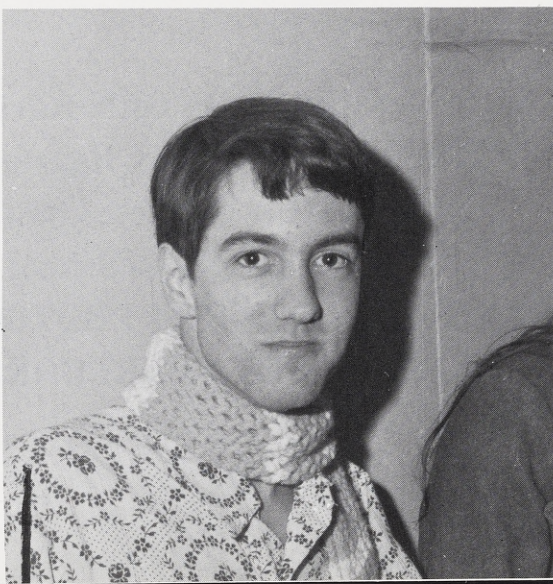

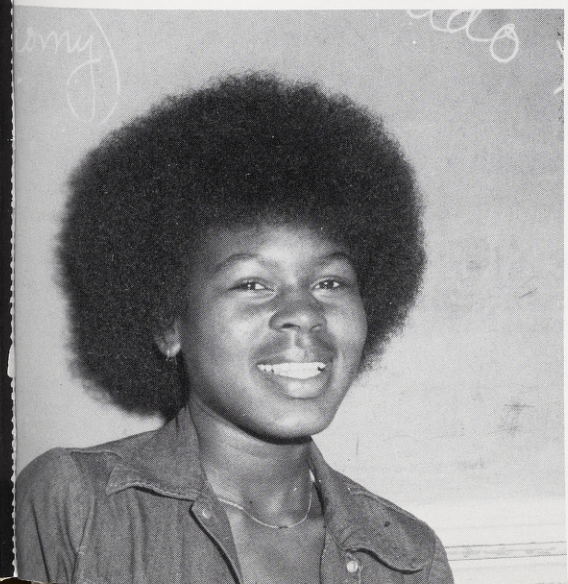

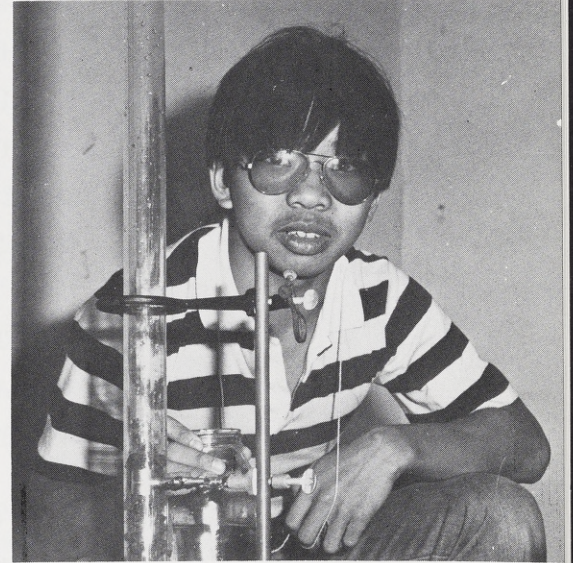

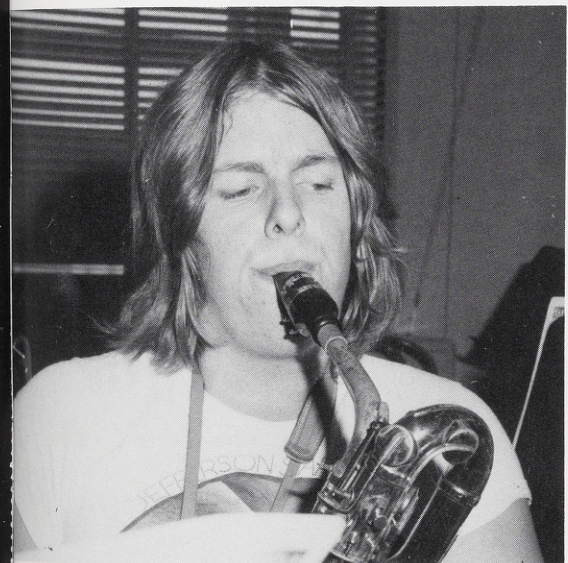

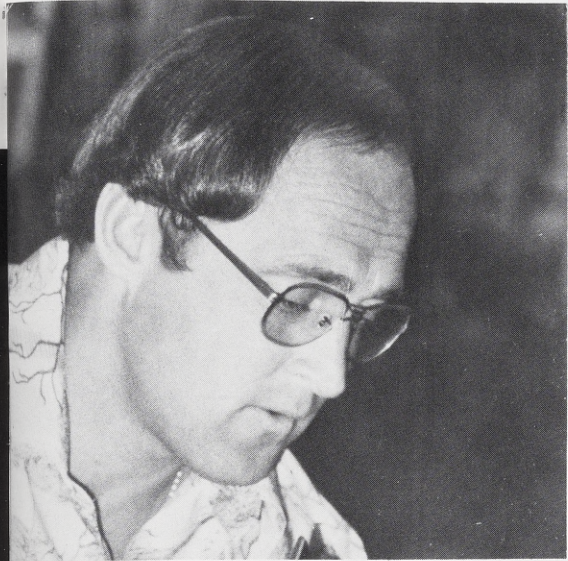

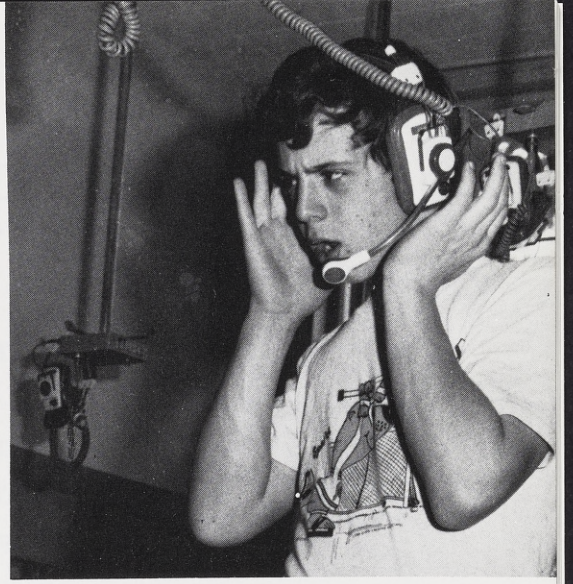

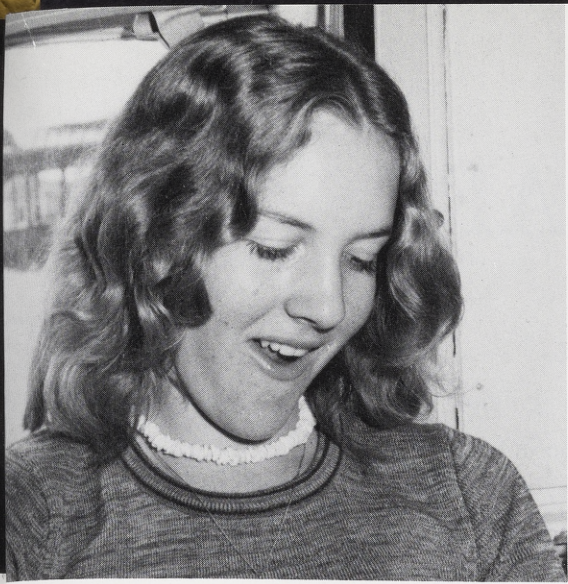

No matter what happens with the buildings in the future, the school itself will remain. Alameda High is more than plaster and wood and glass and pillars. These things are the "skin" of Alameda High; they show on the outside. Inside are the things that really make the school what it is—the spirit, the unity, the people. The structures can be torn down, but the school will always remain. Alameda High School is

students—seniors and underclassmen. It is former graduates—and future freshmen. It's teachers, counselors, and administrators; janitors, secretaries, and cafeteria workers. In short, the school is people. It is to the real Alameda High School—those people—that this book is dedicated. —B.D.

There is a right time for everything under heaven . . .

A time to dance, and a time to worry . . .

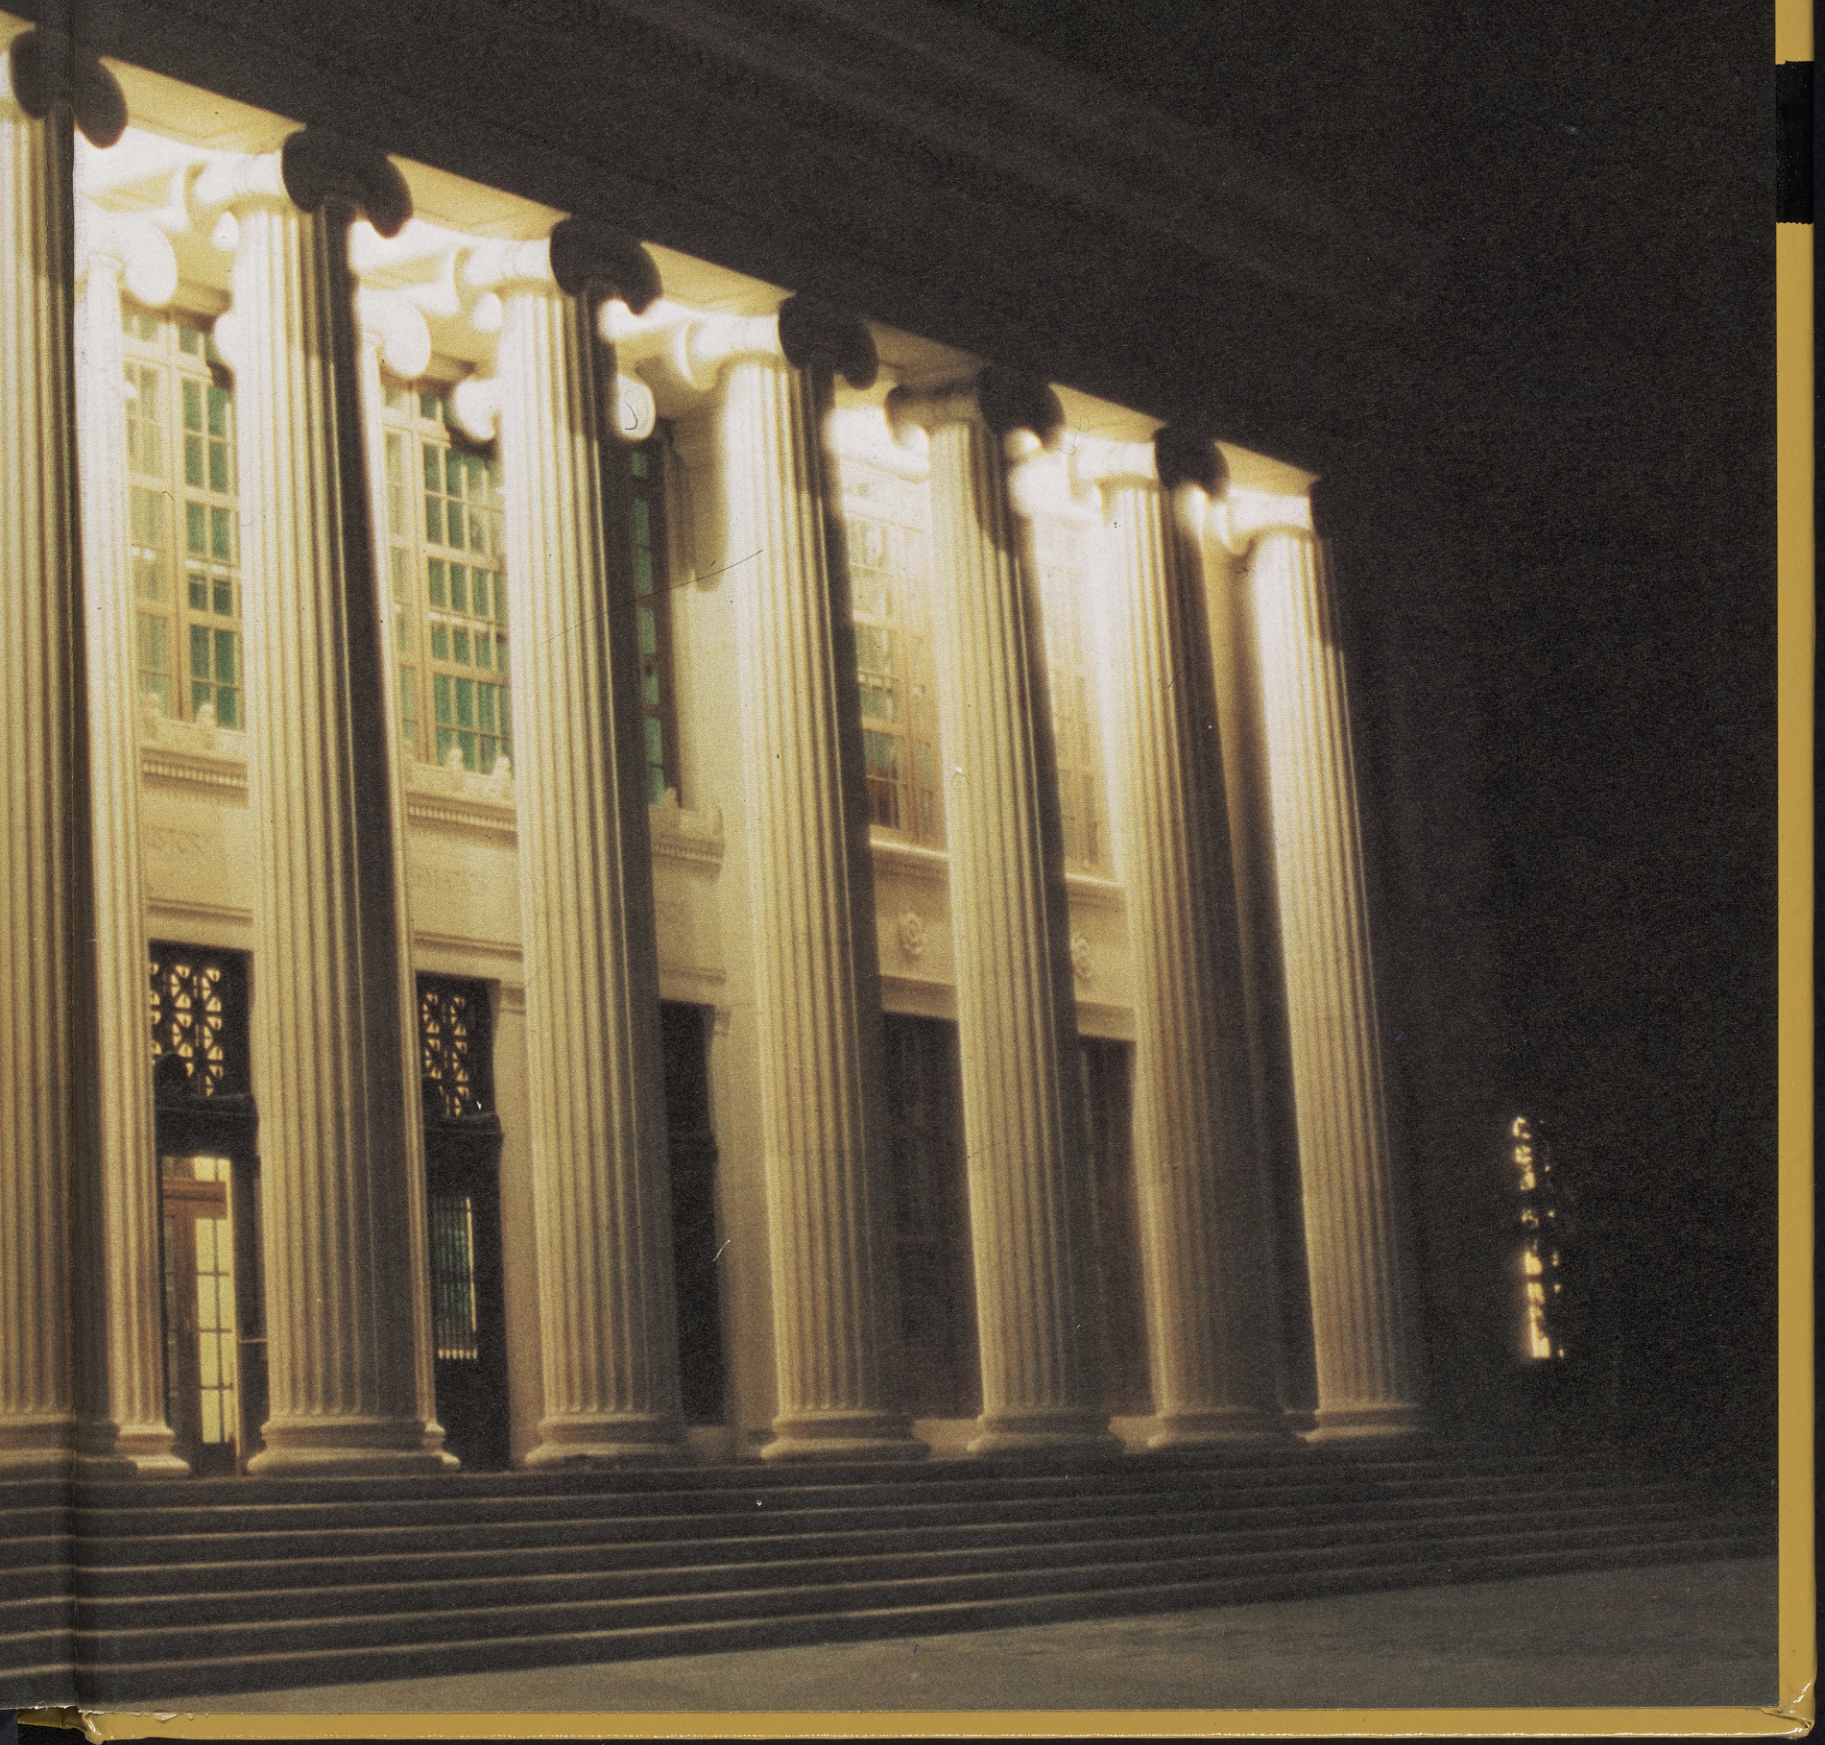

A time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing . . .

A time to laugh, and a time to cry . . .

A time to yell, and a time to keep quiet . . .

A TIME TO TEAR DOWN, AND A TIME TO BUILD UP.
